EXTRA

2¢ BOSTON AMERICAN 8 STAR

Copyright, 1939, by N. E. Newspaper Publishing Co. Entered as second-class matter at Boston Postoffice

VOL. XXXV—NO. 293 BOSTON, SATURDAY, MARCH 4, 1939 28 PAGES

F. D. WARNS DICTATORS: HANDS OFF RELIGIOUS FREEDOM

STORY ON PAGE 2

F. D. R. WARNS DICTATORS

ATTIRED in his new Papal robes, Pope Pius XII is shown reading his address to the world from his throne in the Sistine chapel at the Vatican City, where he appealed for amity among men and nations. International News Radiophoto

Says U.S. Won't Allow Religious Persecution

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt served notice today that the United States would not be passive and and silent about the persecution of religion in lands where democracy had been snuffed out.

Instead, he told the Congress and a host of representatives of foreign powers, this nation would seek "by every peaceful means" to keep religious and personal freedom alive.

Addressing a joint session of the Senate and House in commemoration of the first session of Congress 150 years ago, he denounced the return to the world in recent years "of forms of government which for two thousand years have proved their tyranny and their instability."

The United States, with many other democracies, would never approvingly watch this return to "personal rule," he declared.

RELIGION OPPRESSION

"Where democracy is snuffed out there, too, the right to worship God in one's own way is circumscribed or abrogated," he declared.

"Shall we by our passiveness, by assuming the attitude of the Levite who pulled his skirts together and passed by on the other side, lend encouragement to those who today persecute religion or deny it?

"The answer to that is 'No', just as in the days of the first Congress of the United States it was 'No'.

"Not for freedom of religion alone does this nation contend by every peaceful means. We believe in the other freedoms of the Bill of Rights, the other freedoms that are inherent in the right of free choice by free men and women."

He called upon the government to "act as a whole" for the good of the country. And, with another of his reminders that this was not the "horse and buggy abe," he said modern transportation and communication left "to no citizen an excuse for sectionalism, for delay in the execution of the public business or for a failure to maintain a full understanding of the acceleration of the processes of civilization."

LIBERTIES IN AMERICA

Without mentioning the difficulties he has had with Congress recently, the President recalled that there had been constant friction between the Continental Congress and the commander-in-chief of the Revolutionary armies and that inefficiency was the rule during the

Continued on Page 8, Col. 1

Pope Directs Plans for Colorful Rites of His Coming Coronation

By FRANK GERVASI
International News Service Staff Correspondent

VATICAN CITY, March 4 (INS)—His eloquent plea for peace before the world, Pope Pius XII turned his attention today to his coming coronation, March 12, and the appointment of his successor as Papal Secretary of State.

The new pontiff gave orders for decorations in St. Peter's basilica for the coronation ceremony, which is expected to rival in brilliance any service seen at the Vatican for many years.

It may also revive the traditional procession around Rome in which the Pope takes possession of papal property outside Vatican City.

Pius XII is the first Pontiff elected since termination of the papal "captivity" in the Vatican, and thus, for the first time since 1870, the procession will be possible.

MAY SEE CROWNING

Reports, meanwhile, spread that the Pope may appoint Federico Cardinal Tedeschini as papal secretary of state. He acted as undersecretary of state during the tense days of the World War.

During the coronation ceremony the people of Rome may have a chance to view the climax of the entire ceremony—the placing upon the head of the Pope of the triple crown.

This part of the ceremony, it was reported, may take place on the outer balcony of the basilica.

The new pontiff has not permitted his election as Pope to cause any change in his living habits.

For the time being, it was stated, he will continue to occupy the apartments in which he lived as secretary of state. Later on, when repairs and redecorations are completed, he will move into the papal apartments.

LEADS FOR PEACE

Diplomatic quarters in Rome were agreed that the first public address given by His Holiness was a reflection of his determination to follow the policies of his predecessor, Pope Pius XI—the "Pope of Peace."

The address embodied a special prayer for guidance of the world's leaders, and for maintenance of peace on earth, concord among nations and charity among men.

Hugh Walpole tells how election of Pope Pius XII reassures the world — See Page 7.

BLAZE FAILS TO ROUT THOMPSON SPA GIRLS

While firemen fought a $5000 blaze on the fifth floor of the building, Thompson's Spa patrons in Temple place, went on eating their breakfasts today, and the famous staff of pretty waitresses stayed on duty as usual.

Loyalty of the girls to their jobs was in face of the fact that they knew their most prized possessions—fur coats, spring suits and other finery—were imperilled by the flames, which broke out in an upstairs lounge and locker room.

Location of the fire in the heart of the downtown business section brought a quick and heavy concentration of apparatus, with resulting traffic jams in Tremont street and in Washington street. Temple place was blocked completely.

Firemen took their hoselines up ladders to the fifth floor, putting on a show of skill and agility that was watched by thousands.

Some patrons of the Spa stepped out on the street long enough to see what was going on, then returned to their food. Others, with less time to spare, just continued eating.

Among waitresses who remained at their counters were Ethel Stewart, Greenville street, Roxbury, Helen Collins, Henry street, Roxbury, Madeline Green, Nichols avenue, Everett, Marion Baker, Billings road, Quincy, Katherine O'Neill, Gold street, South Boston, and Bertha Martin, Peterboro street, Back Bay.

Cause of the fire remained undetermined. The blaze was discovered by Richard Hollis, Thompson's Spa manager. The police arson squad began an investigation, although Deputy Fire Chief John Kenney said there was no direct evidence of incendiarism.

Prosperity Plea By Mr. Hearst

William Randolph Hearst will speak from California over the coast-to-coast red network of the National Broadcasting Company tonight at 6:45 o'clock, Pacific Coast time, (9:45 p. m., Boston Time), on "A Plea for Prosperity." Mr. Hearst will broadcast from Station KECA, N. B. C., studio in Los Angeles.

Mr. Hearst will be heard in Boston over Station WNAC at 9:45 p. m.

GAIL LAUGHLIN
Boomed for U. S. Court

Urge Woman As Brandeis Successor

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—The Women in Public Office, Inc., has suggested six women from whom the organization hopes President Roosevelt will pick a successor to Louis D. Brandeis, retired associate U. S. Supreme Court justice.

"So long as this august body is composed of men alone, the United States government will continue to be the most peculiar type of institution on the face of the earth," said Miss Lillian D. Rock, national chairman.

Her candidates:

Judge Florence Allen of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Cleveland; Georgia Bullock of Superior Court, Los Angeles; Genevieve Cline of the U. S. Customs Court, New York; Gail Laughlin, mamber of the Maine legislature; Helen Z. M. Rodgers, Republican candidate for representative-at-large from New York last November, and Pearl Hart of Illinois.

WOMAN APPOINTED

Gov. Saltonstall has appointed Mrs. Hazel Oliver of Springfield a member of the state board of parole in place of Mrs. Gertrude McLaughlin, who resigned.

WEATHER

LOCAL—Cloudy, warmer, occasional light rains tonight and tomorrow. Colder tomorrow night and Monday.

NEW ENGLAND—Intermittent rain, warmer tonight and tomorrow. Colder Monday.

Humidity	56	52
Wind Direction	W	S
Wind Velocity	5	16

High Tide—10:12 p. m.
Height of Tide—10 ft., 6 in., p. m.

FLU EPIDEMIC Guard Against It with PEPSODENT ANTISEPTIC containing CHLOR-THYMOL

Hedy Lamarr Bride Of Producer Markey

Hedy Lamarr, glamorous Viennese actress, and Gene Markey, former husband of Joan Bennett, sped to Calexico, Cal., today to climax a year's secret romance with wedding bells.

HEDY LAMARR
Glamour Filmstress Weds Today

"Yes, we shall be married this afternoon," Markey, associate producer for Twentieth Century-Fox Studios, told International News Service at San Diego.

There, Markey and his dark-haired Hedy halted to rest briefly after a motor trip from Hollywood.

Gene Markey

"We met at a film party a year ago and have been in love ever since," Markey confessed. "I guess it won't be a secret any longer now."

Miss Lamarr, who startled the world by appearing sans raiment in the foreign film "Ecstacy," had been seen frequently during the past year in the company of Reginald Gardner.

"He's so safe," she often explained to friends.

Markey was divorced in June, 1937, by Joan Bennett, now a reigning film actress, and youngest of the three Bennett sisters. He has long made his mark as a producer and writer.

FAME IN "ALGIERS"

The film "Ecstacy," which first brought Hedy fame, was made while she was only 17. She is the divorced wife of Fritz Mandl, European munitions maker.

The film was banned for a time in this country and later released.

Miss Lamarr made her mark in this country through her performance with Charles Boyer in "Algiers," filmed by Walter Wanger Productions. She had been lent for that role by M-G-M, to which company she is under contract.

CURLEY SON GIVES LIE TO STORY THAT WIFE IN FLORIDA WILL SUE

Paul G. Curley, son of former Governor James M. Curley, said today he was "disgusted" with a story in a Boston morning newspaper that his pretty showgirl wife, the former Marie Phillips, was seeking a legal separation in Florida.

"There is no trouble between us," young Curley declared. "I talked with her day before yesterday and everything was fine. I will be talking to her again today.

"I'm tired and sick of answering all these Boston gossips. This is about the fifth time they've had us getting a divorce."

The story, reputedly out of Miami, was that Mrs. Curley, who was known on the stage as Lillian

Continued on Page 6, Column 5

RIFT DENIED. Paul Curley, shown here with his wife in recent photo. He denies reports from Miami that his wife is there seeking a separation.

Wife of Rich Hubby Admits Shooting Self

SUMMIT, N. J., March 4 (AP)—The mysterious shooting of Mrs. Elizabeth Schroeder Hummel, 23, estranged wife of Edwin C. Hummel, 36, son of a wealthy tobacco company executive, was listed as attempted suicide today by police.

Roy A. Martin, chief of union county detectives, said Mrs. Hummel admitted in a statement at Overlook Hospital that a bullet wound she suffered Monday night was self-inflicted.

The woman, Martin said, admitted using her father's .38 calibre revolver in an attempt to end her life because she believed she was a burden to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Schroeder, with whom she had been living since separating from her husband two months ago.

Martin said she tried to aim the bullet at her heart, but instead it pierced her shoulder. Her condition was reported as "fair" by hospital authorities.

Lily Pons Seeks Mate for Her Bird

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—The lonely love cry of Chico, a South American song bird, had Lily Pons singing the blues today.

The Metropolitan opera soprano, torn by Chico's dolorous threnodies, said she had appealed by short-wave radio to friends in South America to help her find Chico a mate.

"He sings as if his heart would break," she said.

BABS TO WED?

COUNT VON REVENTLOW

Mayfair Gossips of New Love

SON LANCE

LONDON, March 4—Her new love finally decided beautiful and blonde Countess Barbara Haugwitz-Reventlow, twice married American heiress, to take the drastic step of giving up her son, Mayfair gossips were saying today.

Two continents were still groping for the answer as the lovely "Babs" voluntarily yielded to her estranged husband, Count Kurt, the custody of their three-year-old Lance.

But Mayfair long has linked her name with a new love and saw in the surrender of her only child a probable divorce and third marriage.

PRINCE MENTIONED

One whose name has been linked by Mayfair society with that of the Woolworth heiress is Prince Frederick of Prussia, fourth son of the former crown prince of Germany and grandson of the former kaiser.

Continued on Page 10, Column 3

COUNTESS BARBARA HAUGWITZ-REVENTLOW

Out of Respect to the Late
MAY J. GROSSMAN
Our offices will be closed all day today
MASSACHUSETTS ENVELOPE CO.
MASSACHUSETTS DRINKING CUP CO.
Maxwell B. Grossman, President
641 Atlantic Avenue, Boston, Mass.

CLARK GABLE FREE TO MARRY CAROLE LOMBARD NEXT WEEK

LAS VEGAS, Nev., March 4 (AP)—By next Tuesday Clark Gable, the idol of many a feminine film fan, may be free to marry blonde Carole Lombard, screen actress and hi salmost constant companion at picture colony affairs for the past three years.

Mrs. Maria Gable, 49-year-old wife of the actor 11 years her junior, on Monday will complete the required 42 days of residence in this southern Nevada city which lures those seeking quick divorce and will be eligible to obtain a decree immediately.

There were indications, however, that she would not appear before Judge William E. Orr before Tuesday.

Mrs. Gable arrived here January 22, rented the palatial new home of her attorney, Frank McNamee, and appeared little in public, although she was noticed occasionally with friends at a swanky gambling casino.

Visitors from Hollywood, where she is one of the film set's most popular hostesses, were frequent.

Her outside activities were restricted to several fishing expeditions to Lake Mead, behind Boulder Dam, and a trip to the ski run on nearby Mt. Charleston.

SEPARATED IN 1935

She and Gable were married in 1931 in Santa Ana, Calif., at which time she gave her age as 41, he his at 30. They separated in 1935, because of what she termed "temperament", two months after a property settlement was effected.

The settlement, under which she received $286,000 from Gable in three years, was taken to court in Los Angeles in January for clarification, the last preliminary to her journey here.

CLARK GABLE CAROLE LOMBARD
Their Road to Altar Smoothing

Now! R.H.WHITE CO.

GENERAL ELECTRIC
Automatic Tuning Radios

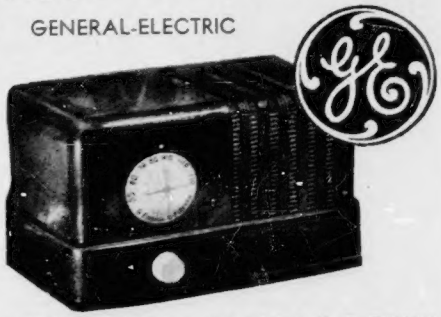
Now Only $29.95

LOOK AT THE NAME
LOOK AT THE PRICE

With a flick of the finger—there's your station—tuned perfectly — in a second. Eight favorite stations located on the revolving dial—amazingly simple. New 1939 models that were higher priced. Hurry and save.

You May Use White's Convenient Payment Plan

LOOK AT THIS NEW
GENERAL-ELECTRIC



LOWEST PRICE EVER FOR A G. E. RADIO

Yes—a 5-Tube General Electric for AC-DC. Standard broadcasts and police calls. Dynamic Speaker. Built-in antenna. Real performance assured. Attractively styled plastic cabinet. $9.95

RADIOS AND RECORDS—WHITE'S FOURTH FLOOR

Also at White's Cambridge Store . . . Open every evening

RADIO, FURNITURE, RUG AND ELECTRIC APPLIANCE DEPARTMENTS
OPEN TONIGHT UNTIL 9 P. M.

GUARD YOUTH HELD AS SLAYER OF BABY

SUNBURY, Pa., March 4 (AP)—A police guard was tightened today around a jail where a 22-year-old former brickyard worker is held on charges of beating to death two-year-old Mariam Wolf, known as the "Rosebud Baby."

As arrangements went forward for the baby's burial, Corporal Richard Gray of the state police said he would place a murder charge against Paul W. Barrick, whom Gray described as a "jealous" suitor of the child's mother.

The corporal quoted Barrick as saying he beat Mariam "at least 50 times" and branded her with a stove-lid lifter "because I was jealous of her father."

The baby was called "Rosebud" because she was so tiny at birth.

Police declined to bring Barrick to an inquest because Sheriff Karl Hower explained that "feeling was quite tense."

A coroner's jury reported the baby was "subjected to considerable mistreatment" before being taken to a hospital. Three physicians reported an autopsy showed death resulted from "an injury of the brain, kidneys and intestines."

The child's mother, Helen Wolf, broke down in a jail cell at word of Mariam's death and begged to be released "so I can see my baby."

It was said she would be permitted to attend the funeral.

Charges of assault and battery and attempt to kill were placed against her after the child died.

"She was criminally negligent for not reporting the bruise marks," said Gray.

Andover Still Raid Nets 6

NORTH ANDOVER, March 4—Six men were arrested and a 500-gallon still and 10,000 gallons of mash seized today when federal agents and state police swooped down on a Cedar street farmhouse, blocking all avenues of escape.

A dozen investigators of the U. S. Alcohol Tax Unit, led by Chief Investigator J. L. Reese, and state police made the seizure, which also included more than 100 gallons of allegedly untaxed alcohol.

Those arrested, all charged with violation of the internal revenue act, were booked as Joseph Gondolfo of Franklin st., Lynn; Theodore Kobeski of Salem st., No. Andover; Edward Hijdys and Joseph Hijdys of Salem st., No. Andover; Joseph Cashman of Peabody and Fred Clerico of Nahant.

Danzig Groups Jews for Exile

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, March 4 (AP)—A Senate ordinance today made all Jews in the Free City jointly responsible for providing the means to speed up Jewish emigration.

The order provided for the grouping of the city's 6000 Jews under a "joint liability" system by which the wealthier ones were called upon to assist the emigration of the poorer through financial support.

N. E. Jewish Parley Opens Here Tonight

The New England Conference of Jewish Communal Agencies, affiliated with the National Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds, will open important session at Hotel Statler this evening which will continue all day tomorrow.

Tonight's exercises will start with greetings by Louis E. Kirstein of Boston, general chairman, and Rabbi Levi Olan, of Worcester, regional president. Addresses will be made by Prof. Max Lerner of Williams College, Rabbi Philip Bernstein, Rochester, N. Y., and Prof. Nathan Isaacs of Harvard.

CRASH KILLS R. I. MAN

PROVIDENCE, March 4—William D. Gibson, 34, of Greenwood avenue, Rumford, was killed instantly today when his car struck an electric light pole in Branch avenue. It was the second fatality in Providence this year, but the 12th in the state.

Shift U. S. Peru Envoy to Russia

WASHINGTON, March 4 (AP)—Laurence A. Steinhardt, now ambassador to Peru, has been named by President Roosevelt ambassador to the Soviet Union, it was learned from a reliable source here today.

Simultaneously, it was announced by the State Department that Claude G. Bowers, ambassador to Spain, had been summoned home for consultation and was already enroute.

3 Police Captains Lead for Squad Post

Police Captains Francis M. Tiernan of West Roxbury, Francis J. Murphy of Mattapan and Thomas G. Duggan of Dudley street station today were reported in the lead for the post of new commander of the reorganized Boston special service squad.

Commissioner Timilty remained mum on his choice, save to declare he would appoint a two-fisted, aggressive type of commander. He indicated he would reveal his choice Monday.

EATS BUT STARVES—Although Mrs. Dorothy Barber, 20-year-old wife of a Kansas City, Mo., WPA worker (above) eats enough to feed 10 normal people, she is starving to death. Doctors, puzzled by her strange malady, watch her steadily lose weight although eating constantly.

'Peg Maleon' Lives In a Magic World

By GEORGE W. CLARKE

Copyright, 1939, by The Boston Evening American, Inc.

There were stars in her eyes as she came down the stairs . . . So young, so hesitant, so afraid.

Long stairs, they are, from the second floor dining-room of Schrafft's Summer street place into an enchanted world of make believe in which a girl becomes a symbol for the one wrought out of white marble long, long ago—"Miss Peg Maleon" of today, chosen from among all of Boston's working girls to help make them all more charming.

She is Muriel Collins, 21, Dorchester, of Irish descent, chosen by Stanley Woodward, eminent New England artist, for the role.

There was a limousine at the door, and it took her to the Copley-Plaza where Assistant Manager Walsh showed her to her suite—a suite with a living room big enough for the Boston City Council, a bedroom big as a flat, and a bathroom big as a bedroom. And flowers were everywhere!

While she was still breathless with the wonder of it all, the little man named Joe, the leaning tower of MGM, whose duty it is to see that she is treated like royalty—aside from letting it be known that the picture, "Pygmalion," is due at the State and Orpheum theaters Thursday—was at her side.

OFF TO THE RITZ

"Come," he said, "we're off to the Ritz."

The Ritz? For what?

He explained. For a hair-do, a facial, a thing, a build-up, a work-over.

Words failed him.

And so, as the little flower girl was "done over" in the George Bernard Shaw play, out of which the picture was made, so was "Peg Maleon"—Muriel Collins, Dorchester, if you please—done over at Charles-of-the-Ritz.

Experts bent over her and her extraordinary beauty began to take on more sparkle.

"Who is that lovely young creature?"—

It was a middle-aged dowager, who asked the question, and when they told her, she said:

SHE'S TRULY LOVELY

"She IS beautiful, isn't she?"

IS THIS REALLY I?—Muriel has a peek in the mirror after she has been transformed by the beauty experts. Yes, Muriel, it really is you—and what a charming person you are!

Truly Peg Maleon was beautiful.

Finally, radiant and sparkling she emerged and was on her way to the Copley-Plaza.

Installed in her suite she agreed—for the first time—to try a cocktail—because smart, sophisticated, women drink cocktails. A Manhattan was ordered. She sipped it.

"If you don't mind," she said, "I'd rather have orange juice . . ."

Peg Maleon's visit to the artist colony at Rockport to see her sponsor, Stanley Woodward, is subject of Monday's installment in the Boston Evening American . . . Muriel will savor the life of a Bohemian, and chat on equal terms with a great artist.

Patrolman Engberg, Jamaica Plain, Dies

Ill since December of an ear infection, Patrolman Hjalmar Engberg, 51, of the Jamaica Plain station, died today in City Hospital.

Engberg, who lived in Parley Vale, had received several blood transfusions, but weakened steadily. Funeral services will be held in Worcester Tuesday at Sandstrum's Funeral Home.

MOTHER'S RIGHT TO KNOW CHILD UPHELD IN COURT

A West Somerville mother today emerged the victor in a custody battle to see her five-year-old daughter after Judge John C. Leggat, impatient over failure of opposing counsel to reach agreement, took matters into his own hands in Middlesex probate court.

Judge Leggat's ruling marked the final chapter in the bitterly contested battle of Mrs. Esther E. Jenkins of West Somerville for the right to see her daughter, Nancy, whose custody was awarded her husband when they were divorced three years ago.

Ruling that the attractive blonde divorcee should not be denied seeing her child at all reasonable times in court, last week, Judge Leggat at that time told the attorneys in the case:

"You make up your mind about the time or I'll make up mine."

Atty. Hubert M. Chase, counsel for the husband, Charles E. Jenkins, of Arlington, president of a Boston wrought iron concern, subsequently wrote a letter to the court in which he stated:

"We do not care to be heard on the question of access. We do not care to share the responsibility involved. We wish to stress that if the suggestions of Mrs. Jenkins' attorney were followed, it would prevent the child from attending any religious instructions in Sunday school at an Arlington church."

In making good his threat to take matters into his own hands in the event of such a deadlock, Judge Leggat granted virtually all the time asked for by Nancy's mother in her petition for modification of the custody decree.

He stipulated that, beginning tomorrow, Mrs. Jenkins may have her daughter from 2 to 6 o'clock on every other Sunday afternoon. On the alternate week-ends, Judge Leggat ruled, the mother may have the little girl with her from 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon until 6 o'clock Sunday evening.

In addition the mother is to have the child from 2 to 6 p. m. on Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas and for two weeks during the summer months. During the two vacation weeks, Jenkins was ordered to pay his former wife $10 a week towards the child's support.

MRS. ESTHER E. JENKINS

SHAMPOO—As only an expert can give it. Muriel Collins, Boston's own "Peg Maleon" captivates the attendants at Charles of the Ritz with her winning Irish smile.

HAIR-DO—Muriel gets a new coiffure in the style best becoming to her own style of charm. Every curl and ringlet must be in its proper place—as befits a duchess!

MANICURE — Muriel's attractive hands were a factor in her selection from hundreds of Boston girls to play role chosen for her. They become prettier than ever.

BLONDIE — "Come Out of the Kitchen, Dagwood Darling!"

N. E. Chowder Best-- Says Yankee Jury

PORTLAND, March 4—Clam chowder of the old New England brand is still the best, officially, although dissenters may object that the jury was packed with New Englanders.

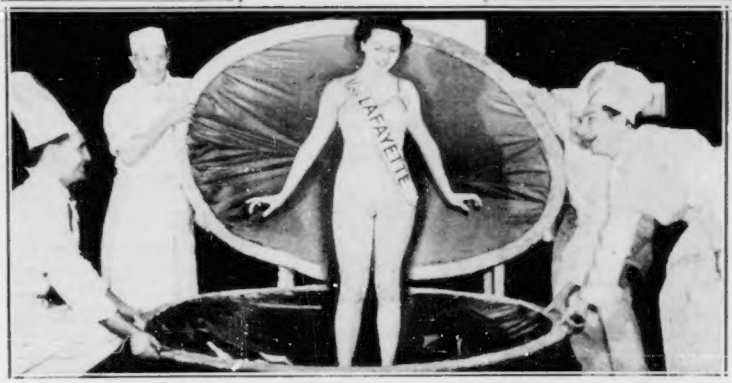
The Yankee product won here in a battle de cuisine with Manhattan chowder, which is so heavily charged with tomatoes it is a little like tomato soup.

State Representative Cleveland Sleeper had charge of the corps of New England chefs, Harry Tully, Philadelphia restaurateur, and president of the International Stewards and Caterers Association, headed the delegation favoring the Manhattan variety.

The only cloud shadowing the famous victory was the fact the judges were Thomas P. Jones, manager of the Harvard Club of Boston, Mrs. Ruth Wakefield of Whitfield, Mass., a food authority, Arthur L. Race of the Copley Plaza in Boston, Arthur R. Greenleaf, sea and shores fisheries commissioner for Maine, and nine other New England chefs and food authorities, equally well known.

Both chowders were consumed by the judges and the guests.

BEAUTY ON THE HALF SHELL



ANOTHER ORDER PLEASE!—But this was the only clam-shell to contain such a feminine tid-bit. Miss Marie Potter of Portland emerges from a giant bivalve as Maine staged its historic "Clam Chowder Battle." The whole thing started when a Maine degislator introduced a bill to bar tomatoes from Maine Clam Chowder. The judges decreed "no tomatoes."

News Item, Sheet Clues in Sex Killing

A newspaper clipping telling of eight attacks on Boston women during the past week, a stained sheet—these were the sole clues for police today in the shocking murder of Miss Nellie Harrington, 58, West End religious recluse.

Held at the Joy street station was a 58-year-old railroad laborer who told police he discovered Miss Harrington's bludgeoned body on the floor of her Brighton street apartment.

In his room, on the same floor, police found a sheet stained with spots believed to be blood.

When the man made several statements which police say conflicted, he was booked as a suspect.

The newspaper clipping, found on a bedroom window sill, mystified police. Perhaps the lonely, poverty-stricken spinster had a premonition of death and clipped the article relating the assault crimes, officers said, or the paper could have been dropped by a fiend who attacked the woman.

Police Superintendent Fallon and Captain William J. Donovan of the Joy street station worked with ace detectives from headquarters to check all angles of the mysterious slaying.

Strange Mysteries

From "The Port of Missing Ships . . . Graveyard of the Sea!"

Derelicts In A Floating World Of Tangled Seaweed

A FLOAT the deep Atlantic is an enormous continent of seaweed . . . the Sargasso Seal covers an area almost as great as Europe and, since remotest antiquity there have been legends about its odd inhabitants. At its centre, the entangled seaweed may be a mile or more thick, these same legends say. But the truth is that living creatures of the "Seaweed Continent" are little less fantastic than those with which imagination has peopled it Dr. Myron Gordon, eminent authority, describes its weird denizens—in words and pictures—in The American Weekly.

A Renowned Naturalist's Authoritative Description of a Region Regarded With Superstitious Awe for Centuries . . . Don't Miss It!

Only One of Many Extraordinary Features in the MARCH 5th issue of

THE AMERICAN WEEKLY
Colored Supplement in the World
— America's most interesting Weekly Magazine —
Distributed every Sunday with

Sunday Advertiser
Largest Newspaper Circulation in New England

Autoists Warned As Cars Kill Six

Six persons were dead, three were dying and a dozen more lay injured today as the result of motor accidents throughout Massachusetts.

Alarmed at the sudden death toll, state police and motor vehicle registry officials warned motorists to take special driving precautions on the week-end. Cloudy and colder weather late today, with possible rain tonight, were seen as added hazards.

Edward Mitkoski, 24, of Springfield, and Anna Dokuska, 17, of Chicopee Falls, were killed when their automobile failed to make a curve near the Springfield airport.

OTHERS DYING

In the same crash were Arthur Chauvin, 23, and Olga Radzuik, 17, both reported dying at Mercy Hospital, Springfield.

Frank G. Eddy, 75, was killed when his truck rammed a pole in River street, Fitchburg. Also in Fitchburg a two-year-old boy was killed when he stepped into the path of a backing truck near his home. He was James O. Brooks, Jr., of Woodworth avenue.

Raymond Gamache, 32, of Rehoboth, was crushed to death in the wreckage of his auto when it struck a pole and turned over in County road, Seekonk. His wife and Myra Daggett of Seekonk were injured.

George M. Saunder, 45, of Newburyport, was struck and killed by a truck in the Newburyport turnpike.

streets. They are Charles Sacchetti, Common street; Paul Mattson, Monroe road; Jerome Devine, Center street; Daniel Gilmore, Fulton street; Frank Petitti, Willard street, and Henry Campello, Copeland street, all Quincy.

HUB HIT-RUN VICTIM

A 40-year-old man, found unconscious in East Lenox street, Roxbury, apparently the victim of a hit-run driver, was in serious condition at City Hospital with multiple body bruises. Papers in his pocket carried the name of Salustra Carmelia, police said.

Six men were injured in a Quincy accident caused as their car hit a pole at South and Sumner

MRS. TORIN RESTS

Mrs. James G. Tobin, sister-in-law of Mayor Tobin, was reported resting comfortably today at Cardinal O'Connell House of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where her baby is expected to be born.

Cutest Thing

$1 The Boston Evening American will pay $1 each for every "Cutest Thing My Baby Said" printed. Address Cutest Thing Editor, Boston Evening American, Box 276, Boston, Mass.

Watching me bandage my injured hand as she was preparing for bed, my three-year-old daughter remarked:

"What are you doing, Daddy—putting pajamas on it?"

— R. E. GALE, Fitchburg.

Find 11 Bodies In Nazi Plane

NICE, France, March 4 (AP)—Eleven bodies were reported found today in the burned wreckage of a German commercial airplane which crashed near Roubillon, in the French Alps near the Italian frontier.

The point where the wreckage was found is on the route covered by a German commercial airline running between Germany and Lisbon, Portugal, through Nationalist Spain.

German authorities recently disclosed that a German plane had been lost in the Mediterranean with 10 persons aboard. The plane was marked D-Alus. Lufthansa, Germany's only commercial airline, said the wrecked plane was not its property.

Curley's Son Denies Rift

Continued From Page 3

DuVal, would apply for legal separation during her present trip to Florida.

She left Boston for Miami two weeks ago, accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Curley Donnelly, and her husband's cousin, Aileen Curley.

"It was the same thing when Marie went over to New York on a short vacation trip a few months ago," the ex-governor's son added. "They had us getting a divorce that time. Marie is with my cousin, Aileen, at Miami. They have taken a house together there.

"My last talk with her was pleasant and friendly, as it should be, and it will be the same when I call her up today."

CARDINAL IN GOOD HEALTH

ROME, March 4—William Cardinal O'Connell of Boston today gave thanks for excellent health and expressed the wish to soon be back among the people of his archdiocese.

"Thank God, I remain in perfect health," the prelate said. "I am sure I received my strength for the journey to Rome as an answer to the prayers of the Boston archdiocese, Protestant and Catholics alike.

"I am looking forward to returning to them soon after the coronation."

Refreshed by a long sleep, the Cardinal prepared today to visit U. S. Ambassador William Phillips and also pay a visit to the American College at Rome.

Earlier, he had taken a long walk through the business area of Rome with Mgrs. Jeremiah Minihan and Michael J. Splaine.

Afterwards, he received a visit from Prince Lelio Orsini, a member of one of Rome's oldest and best known families.

Student Union Invites Council

The Boston City Council was invited by the New England American Student Union to attend the organization's second annual convention opening today at M. I. T.

"As fair-minded public servants," the Union declared, "you owe it to yourselves and to the citizens of Boston to learn the truth about the American Student Union."

The Union recently was attacked by Council members in connection with enrollment of high school students. It was charged by Council members that the organization was Communistic.

Launch Liner At Fore River

While tugs whistled and spectators cheered, the third and last ship of the world's first fleet of completely fireproofed liners was launched today at Fore River, Quincy.

Baptized in a shower of champagne by the wife of Brigadier-General Clarence S. Ridley, governor of the Panama Canal Zone, the S. S. Cristobal, of the Panama Railroad line, said down the ways at the Bethlehem Steel Co. yards.

Then she was towed out to where her two sister ships are nearing completion, ready to take to the ocean lanes between New York and Panama.

All three liners were built at a total cost of about $12,000,000.

The Cristobal is a 493-foot ship and is intended for passenger and freight service.

Bishop Rice Back From Vatican Trip

FRAMINGHAM, March 4—First resident of this town to be raised to the episcopate of the Roman Catholic Church, Bishop William A. Rice, S. J., returned home from Rome on the motorship Rex to visit his sister, Mrs. George J. Cyr of Clark street.

Bishop Rice, founder of the Jesuit college of Bagdad at Irak, was named Vicar Apostolic to British Honduras by Pope Pius XI and was called to Rome a short time before the late Pontiff's death. He will be consecrated bishop in Boston within a few weeks before leaving for his new post at Belize, B. H.

INSPECT OLD SCHOOLS

The Boston school board today ordered an engineering inspection and report on four ancient school buildings, aftermath of the collapse Wednesday of a ceiling in the assembly hall of the Quincy school on Tyler street, South End.

LITTLE CHERRY HOPKINS, not quite a month old yet, shown with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Hopkins, at their Jackson Heights, N. Y., home. Cherry is granddaughter of Harry Hopkins, secretary of commerce.

International News Photograph Service

Choice of Pius XII Reassures the World

The election of Cardinal Pacelli as Pope, and his immediate declaration of policy, throws a powerful new force behind those influences working for peace, Hugh Walpole, famous British novelist, shows in the following article.

By HUGH WALPOLE

World copyright, 1939, by International News Service

VATICAN CITY, March 4—This is "the second day after" and there is everywhere a sense of peace and waiting before the coronation March 12. There is once again a Pope in the world and a Pope whom everyone recognizes as the best possible choice that could have been made.

Had a cardinal been elected who represented very strongly one special party in politics, or had a choice been made of a man who would clearly do his utmost to stay outside of politics altogether, the world would now undoubtedly be waiting with grave apprehension.

I doubt if anyone up to this last fortnight has realized quite strongly enough how much the power and personality of the Vatican means to the whole world.

We see now how deeply important this election has been. Perhaps there has never been a time in the world's history when men, whatever creed, wished more to have someone whom they might look up to, someone who was not working for his own ends, nor even for his country's.

SPEECH TELLS STAND

In his speech, within 24 hours after his election, Pope Pius XII has stated exactly the note that he intends to strike.

The word "peace" echoes and re-echoes throughout the passionate sequence of his sentences. It is as though he said to the world:

"I am come in this moment into this place, and without any interval I will let you know what is going to be the basis of the whole of my ministry.

"My own people, and all people who are scattered the world over, need peace more desperately than in any man's memory.

"If I can help to bring it about, it is peace that they shall have, but not peace on simply any terms.

"They are my children and I am their father, and I will guard them from harm with the utmost of my power, and I will stand for all the things that belong to them."

HAS TRAVELED WIDELY

Pius XII has been over much of the world, and has made no enemies anywhere. He has kept his friendships through trust and the knowledge of man's nature, and still more, because he has always known the terms on which he stands with other men.

This new element of energy and strength will be felt at once throughout the whole world. Pius XI was a great man, courageous and unflinching, but he was over 80 years of age, and during the last years of his life he suffered from illness.

The world now has a Pope of 63, a man of strength and wisdom.

There is fresh and increasing strength thrown behind all the forces, wherever they may be, on the side of the peace of the world.

Blood Infection Kills Fr. Toomey

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—A three-months' fight against streptococcus viridans, a rare blood infection, ended in death today for the Rev. Jeremiah Toomey, 41, professor of morals at Dunwoodie Seminary, Yonkers, N. Y.

The Jesuit priest died following a long series of blood transfusions. More than 1000 persons in all parts of the country answered a radio and police teletype appeal for blood donors.

RABBI WISE SAILS HOME

LONDON, March 4 (AP)—Rabbi Stephen Wise, United States delegate to the deadlocked Palestine peace conference, sailed today for New York aboard the Queen Mary

Strangest Thing

$1 The Boston Evening American will pay $1 each for every "Strangest Thing I Ever Saw" printed. Address Strangest Thing Editor, Boston Evening American, Box 494, Boston, Mass.

The strangest thing I ever saw was a dog holding a lolly-pop between his fore-paws and licking it like a child.

—JAMES McGOWAN, Cambridge.

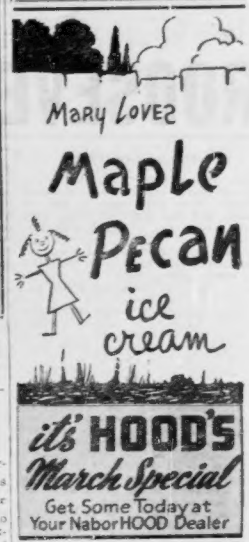
Schacht Plans U. S. Visit, Berlin Hears

BERLIN, March 4 (AP)—German financial and business circles said Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former president of the Reichsbank who was removed from the post, was expected to leave soon on an extended vacation and that he likely would visit the United States.

Electric Razor Used By Pius XII

VATICAN CITY, March 4 (AP)—Pope Pius XII, whose modern tendencies rival even those of his predecessor, shaves himself with an electric razor, his barber, Luigi Evangelisti, said today.

"I did not believe it at first," said Evangelisti, "but His Eminence showed me and said, 'see, my son, it can be done'."



it's HOOD'S March Special

Get Some Today at Your NaborHOOD Dealer

Need Money—Read the Boston Record-American Want Ads.

"CAVALCADE OF SPORTS"

It's a BIG full page!

It appears EVERY WEEK!

It's dedicated to the sports fans of New England who want their sports news alive and sparkling!

It's written by men WHO KNOW SPORTS!

—JACK CONWAY
—BILL CORUM
—AUSTEN LAKE
—DAN PARKER
—ED COCHRANE
—JOE CASHMAN
—BOB CONSIDINE

To get the "CAVALCADE OF SPORTS" every week carrying the columns and comments of these well known writers be sure to ask for the

SUNDAY ADVERTISER

BRINGING UP FATHER

It Never Fails!

ROOSEVELT WARNS WORLD OPPRESSORS

Continued from Page 2

long drawn out war. There was grave doubt whether independence would have been won at all, he said, had not Great Britain been confronted with other wars in Europe.

Most of the speech was an exposition of the rights and freedoms enjoyed under democratic government and denied, the President said, by other forms.

He compared the American right to trial by jury with "some processes of trial and punishment which of late have reincarnated the 'justice' of the Dark Ages."

Text of his address follows in part:

We near the end of a three-year commemoration of the founding of the government of the United States. It has been aptly suggested that its successful organizing should rank as the eighth wonder of the world—for surely the evolution of permanent substance out of nebulous chaos justifies us in the use of superlatives.

Thus, we may increase our century and please our vanity by picturing the period of the Revolution as crowded with a unanimous population of heroes dramatized by the admitted existence of a handful of traitors to fill the necessary role of villain. Nevertheless, we are aware today that a more serious reading of history depicts a far less pleasing scene.

ARMY'S DIFFICULTIES

It should not detract from our satisfaction in the result to acknowledge that a very large number of inhabitants of the 13 revolting colonies were opposed to rebellion and to independence; that there was constant friction between the Continental Congress and the commander-in-chief and his generals in the field; that inefficiency, regardless of the cause of it, was the rule rather than the exception in the long-drawn-out war; and, finally, that there is grave doubt as to whether independence would have been won at all if Great Britain herself had not been confronted with wars in Europe which diverted her attention to the maintenance of her own existence.

We can at least give thanks that in the first chapter all was well that ended well, and we can at least give thanks to those outstanding figures who strove against great odds for the maintenance of the national ideal which their vision and courage had created.

OUR CRITICAL PERIOD

Dissension and discord were so widely distributed among the 13 new states that it was impossible to set up a union more strong or permanent than that loose-end, shaky debating society provided for under the articles of confederation. That we survived for six years is more a tribute to the ability of the confederation congress gracefully to do nothing, and to the exhaustion that followed the end of the war, rather than to any outstanding statesmanship or even leadership. Again, we can properly say of the period of confederation that all was well that ended well.

Those years have rightly been called "the critical period of American history." But for crisis—in this case a crisis of peace—there would have been no union; you the members of the Senate and the House; you the chief justice and associate justices and I, the President of the United States, would not be here on this 4th of March, a century and a half later.

It is well to remember that from 1781 to 1789 the thirteen original states existed as a nation by the single thread of congressional government, and without an executive or a judicial branch. The annual assembly of representatives, moreover, was compelled to act not by a majority but by states, and in the more important functions by the requirement that nine states must consent to the action.

HORSE-BUGGY AGE

You have heard the phrase the "horse and buggy age." We used it not in derogation of the men who had to spend weeks on the rough highways before they could establish a quorum of the congress, not in implication of inferiority on the part of those who perforce could not visit their neighbors in other states and visualize at first hand the problems of the whole of an infant nation.

We use it rather to explain the tedious delays and the local antagonisms and jealousies which beset our early paths, and we use it perhaps to remind our citizens of today that the automobile, the railroad, the airplane, the electrical impulse over the wire and through the ether leave to no citizen an excuse for sectionalism, for delay in the execution of the public business or for a failure to maintain a full understanding of the acceleration of the processes of civilization.

Thus the crisis which faced the new nation through its lack of national powers was recognized as early as 1783, but the very slowness of contacts prevented a sufficient general perception of the danger until 1787, when the Congress of the Confederation issued a call for the holding of a constitutional convention in May.

WASHINGTON'S CHOICE

We are familiar with the immortal document which issued from that convention; of the ratification of it by sufficient states to give it effect; of the action of the confederation congress which terminated its own existence in calling on the first federal congress to assemble on March 4, 1789.

We know of the month's delay before a quorum could be attained; of the counting of the ballots unanimously cast for General Washington; of his triumphal journey from Mount Vernon to New York, and of his inauguration on April 30.

So ended the crisis. So, from a society of 13 republics was born a nation with the attributes of nationality and the framework of permanence.

I believe that it has been held by the Supreme Court that the authority of the articles of confederation ended on March 3, 1789. Therefore the Constitution went into effect next day.

"BY THE PEOPLE"

That Constitution was based on the theory of representative government, two of the three branches of its government being chosen by the people, directly in the case of the House of Representatives, by elected legislatures in the case of Senators, and by elected electors in the case of the president and vice-president. It is true that in many states the franchise was greatly limited, yet the cardinal principle of free choice by the body politic prevailed.

The safety of the system of representative democracy is in the last analysis based on two essentials: first, that at frequent periods the voters must choose a new Congress and a new President; and second, that this choice must be made freely, without any undue force against or influence over the voter. That, after all, is the greatest difference between what we know as democracy and those other forms of government which, though they seem new to us, are essentially old—for they revert to those systems of concentrated self perpetuating power against which the representative democratic system was successfully launched several centuries ago.

NO RETURN OF TYRANNY

Today, with many other democracies, the United States will give no encouragement to the belief that our processes are outworn, or that we will approvingly watch the return of forms of government which for 2000 years have proved their tyranny and their instability alike.

With the direct control of the free choosing of public servants by a free electorate, the Constitution has proved that this type of government cannot long remain in the hands of those who seek personal aggrandisement for selfish ends, whether they act as individuals, as classes or as groups.

It is therefore in the spirit of our system that our elections are positive in their mandate, rather than passive in their acquiescence. Many other nations envy us the enthusiasm, the attacks, the wild overstatements, the falsehood intermingled gayly with the truth that marks our general elections, because they are promptly followed by acquiescence in the result and a return to calmer waters as soon as the ballots are counted.

BILL OF RIGHTS

We celebrate the completion of the building of the constitutional house. But an essential was lacking—for the house had to be made habitable.

And so there came about that tacit understanding that to the Constitution would be added a Bill of Rights.

In that Bill of Rights lies another vast chasm between our representative democracy and those reversions to personal rule which have characterized these recent years.

JURY TRIALS—Do the people of our own land ever stop to compare that blessed right of ours with some processes of trial and punishment which of late have re-incarnated the "justice" of the dark ages? The taking of private property without due compensation. Would we willingly abandon our security to be safe against unwarrantable searches and seizures—read your newspapers and rejoice that our households are still safe.

FREEDOM TO ASSEMBLE and petition for a redress of grievances—the mail and the telegraph bring daily proof to every senator and every representative that that right is at the height of an unrestrained popularity.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH—Yes, that too is unchecked, for never has there been so much of it on every side on every subject. It is indeed a freedom which because of the mildness of our laws of libel and slander, goes unchecked except by the good sense of the American people.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS—I take it that no sensible man or woman believes that it has been curtailed or threatened or that it should be. Representative democracy will never tolerate suppression of true news at the behest of government.

FREEDOM OF RELIGION—That essential of the rights of mankind everywhere goes back also to the origin of representative government. Where democracy is snuffed out there, too, the right to worship God in one's own way is circumscribed or abrogated. Shall we by our passiveness, by our silence, by assuming the attitude of the Levite who pulled his skirts together and passed by on the other side, lend encouragement to those who today persecute religion or deny it?

The answer to that is "no," just as in the days of the first Congress of the United States it was "no."

FOR FREEDOM UNFETTERED

Not for freedom of religion alone does this nation contend by every peaceful means. We believe in the other freedoms of the bill of rights, the other freedoms that are inherent in the right of free choice by free men and women. That means democracy to us under the Constitution, not democracy by direct action of mob; but democracy exercised by representatives chosen by people themselves.

Here in this great hall are assembled the present members of the government of the United States of America—the Congress, the Supreme Court and the Executive. Our fathers rightly believed that this government which they set up, would seek as a whole to act as a whole for the good governing of the nation. It is in the same spirit that we are met here, today, 150 years later, to carry on their task. May God continue to guide our steps.

F. D. COST 50 BILLION IN 6 YEARS

WASHINGTON, March 4 (INS)—President Roosevelt observed the sixth anniversary of his White House reign today with the nation beset by unemployment, farm and business problems, but at peace with the world.

On this anniversary after six tumultuous years—the President appears to be heading his New Deal toward the right in an effort to restore business confidence and capture that elusive prosperity.

During his tenure as President, Mr. Roosevelt has spent almost $50,000,000,000 of the people's money and has executed tremendous social and governmental reforms, only to be confronted with the ever-present problem of unemployment and low farm prices.

In his time as President the cost of government has trebled, the public debt has soared to the $40,000,000,000 mark and federal taxes have almost tripled.

The President reaches this sixth anniversary with his own party leaders on Capitol Hill demanding economy as a substitute for increasing the public debt or imposing new taxes. He also faces demands he speak out now on whether he intends to run for a third term in 1940.

His six years as President have been filled with surprises. The climax probably was his unexpected attempt to enlarge the Supreme Court—a bill branded by its foes as the "court packing scheme." He lost that fight to the Senate, but he won control of the Court through a death and three retirements, so that now it has a 5 to 3 New Deal majority, with the President about to name another friendly justice.

F. D. R. 'GREAT'—UNLESS

MEADVILLE, Pa., March 4 (AP)—Norman Thomas, national chairman of the Socialist party, predicted here that President Roosevelt—first inaugurated six years ago today—"Will go down in history as one of our greatest presidents if he gets out of office before he gets us into war."

What Is Going On In Soviet Russia Today?

Read the truth—read how mistrust, unrest and economic collapse are filtering through the Russian frontier. What is the truth about Russia's military strength? Who will take over after Stalin's death? Read the answers in a series of revealing articles

BEGINNING IN TOMORROW'S

Sunday Advertiser

Greet Easter in things new!

THE very mood of Easter is on this page! Because—Easter means a new suit to the smart young American. NOW is the time you crave a suit as stimulating as a new love—springlike as a robin. Feminine is the word for the NEW suits. There's magic in the swing of the full, circular skirts—and sheer sorcery in tailoring that takes inches off your waist and hips. Sketched are the kind of suits you'll find featured in Boston's Value Belt stores. Be the first to wear the new 1939 Bolero Suits. Watch heads turn to look at your tiny waist! Buy a new Reefer coat for over "soft" cardigan suits—or a feminine, dressmaker suit—or a plaid jacket suit that gives you a "little girl" look. Be sure your suits have that new wee-waisted line—AND you'll be "fashion-first" in Boston—New York—Paris—London on this Easter, 1939.

COME to Boston for the simple, sensible reason that you get what you came for. Style, for instance. Your style isn't necessarily what looks best on two or three other women. Nor is your style the best that one store has to offer. Your style is what looks best on you, selected from all the creative efforts of Paris and Park Avenue. It's completely your style when you shop for it in the Value Belt because you have the widest variety of materials, the guidance of style consultants, every other convenience and comfort to make your choice easy. Yours is a happy choice because the Value Belt assures you of thorough-going quality. You can depend on every representation. You know the price is probably better because . . . volume makes value.

Shop the VALUE BELT

COME TO BOSTON TO SHOP

Style is the plus when you shop the Value Belt!

PUBLISHED IN THE INTEREST OF THE PUBLIC AND THE RETAILERS OF BOSTON BY THE BOSTON RECORD-AMERICAN AND THE SUNDAY ADVERTISER

RADIO LOG

Wave Lengths

Station	Kilocycles
WEEI	590
WBZ	990
WNAC	1230
WAAB	1410
WMEX	1500
WHDH	830
WCOP	1120
WORL	920

Selected Dance Music

6:45 P. M.—Rhythm Revue, WEEI.
8:30 P. M.—Fred Waring Pennsylvanians, WNAC.
10:45 P. M.—Nye Mayhew Orchestra, WAAB.
11:00 P. M.—Julie Wintz Orchestra, WMEX.
11:30 P. M.—Charles Baum Orchestra, WEEI.
12:00 Midnight—Chick Webb Orchestra, WBZ.
12:15 A. M.—Bob Crosby Orchestra, WNAC.

2:00 P. M.
WBZ—Education Forum
WAAB—London Music
WMEX—Today's Winners
WHDH—News
WCOP—Win Place Show

3:15 P. M.
WHDH—Don Humbert Strings
WCOP—Rhythm Romance

3:30 P. M.
WBZ—Al Roth Company
WHDH—Talking Drums
WCOP—Frolic Makers

3:45 P. M.
WEE—Weather-News
WHDH—Mail Magazine Music

4:00 P. M.
WBZ—Club Matinee
WAAB—Specialty Time
WMEX—Bob Freeman Orchestra
WCOP—Specialty Program
WORL—World in Review

4:15 P. M.
WEEI—Widener Challenge
WHDH—Fishermen
WCOP—Dance Avenue
WORL—Children's Hour

4:30 P. M.
WAOB—Widener Challenge
WHDH—Hayshakers
WCOP—Melody Gems
WORL—Hollywood

4:45 P. M.
WHDH—Variety Musicale
WCOP—World Dances

5:00 P. M.
WEEI—Price America?
WBZ—Hawkins Orchestra
WAAB—Transportation
WCOP—Swing Partners
WORL—News

5:15 P. M.
WNAC—Youth-Gov't
WMEX—The Last Star
WHDH—Weather-News
WORL—Music of Today

5:30 P. M.
WEEI—Marshard Orch.
WBZ—Southwestern Stars
WMEX—Let's Get Together
WHDH—Serenaders
WCOP—Hits and Bits

5:45 P. M.
WHDH—The Cabineers

6:00 P. M.
WEEI—News
WBZ—News-Weather
WNAC—News
WAAB—Dinner Concert
WMEX—News
WHDH—Bavarian Music

6:15 P. M.
WEEI—Leighton Noble Orchestra
WBZ—Weather-Music
WNAC—Boston Hotel Men
WMEX—Italian Review
WHDH—Nickerson Orch.

6:30 P. M.
WEEI—Sport Rendezvous
WBZ—Rentrew of Mounted
WNAC—Musical Program
WMEX—Sutherland-Sports
WHDH—Mother and Dad Music

6:45 P. M.
WEEI—Rhythm Revue
WNAC—Scheme Drama
WMEX—Dick Stultz Orch.

7:00 P. M.
WEEI—Santa Anita Race
WBZ—Message of Israel
WNAC—Santa Anita Race
WMEX—Blanche Calloway
WHDH—Marshall Orch.

7:15 P. M.
WMEX—Myles O'Malley
WHDH—Jobert's Orchestra —Sign Off

7:30 P. M.
WEEI—Joe Brown Show
WBZ—Question Box
WNAC—Beverly Club
WAAB—News
WHDH—Concert Master

7:45 P. M.
WAAB—20th Century Serenade
WMEX—Shandor Gypsies

8:00 P. M.
WEEI—Johnny Presents
WBZ—Sen. McNary, talk
WNAC—Tommy Riggs-Betty Lou
WAAB—Goconchasers
WMEX—Inventor's Time

8:30 P. M.
WEEI—Prof. Quiz
WBZ—Brent House drama
WNAC—Fred Waring Music
WAAB—Harvard-Yale Basketball
WMEX—Jungle Jim

9:00 P. M.
WEEI—Phil Baker Show
WBZ—Barn Dance
WNAC—"Vox Pop" Quiz
WMEX—Spy Stories

9:30 P. M.
WEEI—Saturday Serenade
WNAC—Hall of Fun
WAAB—Hawaii Calls!
WMEX—Blanche Calloway

9:45 P. M.
WNAC—William R. Hearst, address—"A Plea for Prosperity"
WMEX—Dick Stutz Orch.
WAAB—Hockey Game—Harvard-Yale

10:00 P. M.
WEEI—Your Hit Parade
WBZ—NBC Symphony
WNAC—AAU Indoor Track Meet
WMEX—Pete Herman Orchestra

10:30 P. M.
WNAC—Johnny Hany's Orch.
WAAB—Young Orch.
WMEX—Front Page Drama

10:45 P. M.
WEEI—Capitol Opinions
WMEX—News

11:00 P. M.
WEEI—Weather—News
WNAC—News—Weather
WAAB—Mayhew Orch.
WMEX—Julie Wintz Orch.

11:15 P. M.
WEEI—Jay Wesley, Sports
WAAB—Jimmy Dorsey Orch.

11:30 P. M.
WEEI—Chas. Baum Orch.
WBZ—News Music
WNAC—Heidt Orch.
WMEX—Day's End

11:45 P. M.
WBZ—Russ Morgan Orch.
WAAB—Dick Jurgen Orch.
WMEX—Day's End

12:00 MIDNIGHT
WEEI—Dick Stabile Orch.
WBZ—Chick Webb Orch.
WNAC—Jan Savitt Orch.
WAAB—News.

Best Radio Bets

7:30 P. M. WEEI—Joe E. Brown, Comedy—Variety.
8:00 P. M. WNAC—Tommy Riggs and Betty Lou, musical.
9:00 P. M. WBZ—National Barn Dance Hour.
9:45 P. M. WNAC—Address by William Randolph Hearst, subject "A Plea for Prosperity."
10:00 P. M. WBZ—NBC Symphony Orch. Concert.
10:30 P. M. WMEX—Front Page Drama, sketch.

FEAR FAST WILL KILL GANDHI

RAJKOT, India, March 4 (AP)—The health minister of the Bombay presidency flew here today to watch the health of Mohandas K. Gandhi as the frail, ascetic leader of millions of Indians entered the second day of his protest "fast unto death."

Gandhi, wearing little besides a pair of cheap horn-rimmed spectacles, slept peacefully throughout the night on a simple cot placed in the moonlight outside his hut. He apparently has suffered no ill effects thus far.

STOCK EXCHANGE CLOSES

The Bombay stock exchange and cotton market closed today in protest at Gandhi's strike. Prices on other Indian stock exchanges declined.

Already in precarious health, the little, bald, 69-year-old spiritual leader hoped by his fifth hunger strike to persuade the native ruler of Rajkot state, Thakore Saheb Shri Dharmendrasinhji, to introduce governmental reforms, including a "voice in the government" for the people of the tiny western India state.

VITALITY LOW

Miss Sushila Nayar, his personal medical attendant, declared Gandhi's vitality was low because of the great strain under which he has been working recently.

Before he started his fast Gandhi advised his followers against imitating him.

"At a very early age I began fasting for self-purification," he said. "The weapon of fasting can easily savour of violence unless used by one skilled in the art. I claim to be such an artist."

Mayfair Hints Babs to Wed 3d

Continued from Page 3

The prince, 26 and handsome, is employed at a London bank and often was guest at the Countess' parties.

Still another reported as a favored suitor is an unnamed American.

In the latest action, Count Kurt will have "custody, care, superintendence and control" of young Lance until he becomes of age.

The Countess will not be entirely deprived of the child, however. She will have Lance with her during certain periods specified in the Danish separation upon which she and Count Kurt agreed.

BOTH TRAVELING

Justice Sir Charles Bennett in Chancery court also ordered that the father shall have control over Lance's religious instruction, education and general upbringing. All matters were agreed to by counsel, with Count Kurt at St. Moritz, Switzerland, and "Babs" on a trip to the upper reaches of the Nile river.

Count Kurt's friends in London said he was always firmly insistent that the boy be educated in Germany and Denmark, whereas Countess Barbara desired a typical English college education for him.

SKID KILLS DRIVER

FITCHBURG, March 4—Frank G. Eddy, 75, a farmer, was killed here when his truck skidded from the highway into a pole.

LAST RITES MONDAY FOR JOSEPH S. WARD

Generally mourned by Boston newspaper men, Joseph S. Ward, rewrite man on the Boston Evening American and former secretary to the late Lieut.-Gov. William S. Youngman, will be buried Monday from his home in Auburn street in Wakefield.

A solemn high mass of requiem will be at St. Joseph's Church in Wakefield at 9 o'clock.

Joe Ward was 38 years old. He was a graduate of M. I. T., worked on the Boston Globe, was graduated from B. U. Law School while working as a reporter, became chief adviser to the Youngman forces and the lieutenant-governor's secretary.

Later he returned to newspaper work with the Boston Record, combining journalism and the law. With William S. Youngman, Jr., he effected a settlement in a stockholders' suit which netted the youthful team one of the biggest fees in the history of Massachusetts courts.

For the last five years he worked for the Boston American, wrote fiction. He is survived by his sister, Mrs. Mary Ward Lynch, and a brother, Frederick A. Ward.

LENA S. GRAY

The funeral of Mrs. Lena S. Gray, former president of the Wakefield Woman's Relief Corps, will be held from her home in Elm street, Wakefield, at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be in Lakeside cemetery. She was the wife of Frank B. Gray, who survives, as do a son and daughter.

JOSEPH D. KILLIAN

Final tribute of his police comrades was paid to the late Patrolman Joseph D. Killian of Back Back station, at his funeral today with a detail of nearly 50 police on hand.

The funeral was held from the late home of the officer at 21 Rogers Park avenue, Brighton, followed by a solemn high mass of requiem at St. Columbkille's Church at 9 a. m.

GEORGE BALMER HARRIS

Services will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at his home in Lee street, Brookline, for George Balmer Harris, 75, for 36 years a member of the Boston Stock Exchange, and father-in-law of Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill.

MAY J. GROSSMAN

The funeral of Mrs. May J. Grossman, 58, active in Jewish social and charitable organizations, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from Temple Ohabe Shalom in Beacon street, Brookline. She died yesterday in Beth Israel Hospital, Brookline. Mrs. Grossman was the wife of Maxwell J. Grossman. They lived in Beacon street, Brookline.

Eight Contests In Milton Poll

Voters went to the polls in Milton today to decide eight contests for town offices.

There are six candidates for selectmen, including the incumbents, Chairman Frederick Gaskins, Daniel E. Duggan and Josiah Babcock. Running against them are Allen F. Gifford, Francis G. O'Neil and Patrick Donahue, Jr.

Towns which hold similar elections Monday are Arlington, Belmont, Dedham, Holbrook, Lexington, Randolph, Wakefield and Wellesley.

Lafs

$1 The Boston Evening American will pay $1 each for every "Laf" printed. Address "Laf" Editor, Boston Evening American, Box 578, Boston, Mass.

Visitor: "I'm looking for the young man that works in this office. Would you tell him his grandfather is here to see him."

Boss: "You just missed him. He has gone to your funeral."

—ELSIE MAXWELL,
Raymond, N. H.

Sunday's Paper

Thomas Morgan's Story on the New Pope
More Fortune-Hunters Due Here

Guilty or Not? Amazing Murder Mystery
Smart Set Magazine—Don't Miss It

Soviet Silence Ended
Could You Live on $750 a Week?

By GEORGE LEWIS

THE NEW POPE through the eyes of his friend and admirer! Such is the story the Boston Sunday Adveriser tomorrow brings to its readers.

The author is Thomas B. Morgan, famous writer of "A Reporter at the Papal Court" and "The Life of Pope Pius XI."

For 19 years, throughout the reign of the late Pontiff, Mr. Morgan lived in Rome, close to Vatican activity. It was his good fortune to know Eugenio Pacelli as bishop, cardinal and papal secretary of state.

Often the two spent hours together, talking not as prelate and journalist, but as men l eply interested in world problems, social and economic.

Adelaide Moffatt

Now, therefore, it is Mr. Morgan's privilege to give New England a truly accurate picture of the Holy Father and to predict the course he will take in a world armed to the teeth and divided by intolerance, hatred and bitterness.

NEW AND DIFFERENT is Fred Perkins' story in the Sunday Advertiser's GREEN MAGAZINE. Mr. Perkins notes that many million-dollar American children are growing up, and he wonders whether the fortune hunters of Europe will soon flock to these shores to ask for their hands in matrimony. There is Brenda Frazier, society glamour girl. There is Gloria Vanderbilt, who has been Front Page news for years. And there are a dozen others, in Boston, in New York and in all states and sections.

Tomorrow, for the first time, their futures are faced and discussed.

Gloria Vanderbilt

GUILTY OR NOT GUILTY? More than 40 years ago a man was hanged in Massachusetts for the murder of a woman. Yet the world still asks: "Did the jury really know?"

The Sunday Advertiser reopens this amazing case, and Paul Whelton, weighing the evidence, makes startling comments.

LUCIUS BEEBE, top-hat recorder of society doings, returns from San Francisco's World's Fair and tells the Advertiser about the wondrous things he has seen.

In a critical mood, Mr. Beebe visited the Exposition. And with an "I'm from Missouri" attitude, surveyed all exhibits. Consequently, his conclusions make interesting reading.

THE SMART SET MAGAZINE invites New England to a "deb" party, introduces the glamor girls and boys, and makes the reader feel that he himself were actually a guest.

This enjoyable Advertiser section continues Collin Cline's "Life of Christ," an inspiring and informative Lenten feature. To illustrate his story, Mr. Cline uses what many scholars have called the best portrait of Jesus. Yet it has seldom been reproduced in an American newspaper!

Every member of the family will find something of interest in The Smart Set Magazine. Nor will Mother de disappointed. The Garden and Household pages have been prepared especially for her.

RUSSIA'S SILENCE has intrigued American newspaper readers. What is happening? Why no news? What is the reason? Millions ask these questions. Still no answer has been given!

Tomorrow, the Sunday Advertiser, concerned with giving its readers FACTS, tells the story the whole nation wants to hear. Soviet silence thus ends.

MANY A BOSTONIAN has wondered whether, like London and Berlin, this city ought to have a balloon barrage if war should come and enemy planes invade our shores.

It is not a complicated device, this balloon barrage. Bags filled with hydrogen or helium would lift wire nets into the sky. And air raiders would become entangled in the nets.

BUT WOULD IT BE PRACTICAL?

To Captain William Murphy, Army commandant at East Boston airport, the Sunday Advertiser put the question and received the answer.

Thousands will surely read it tomorrow.

REVERE RACKETEERS are in flight, leaving their purged city and carrying their lawlessness to other Massachusetts communities. So says the Rev. E. Ambrose Jenkins, the Beach City's crusading clergyman.

What Mr. Jenkins warns of, as well as what he would do to end the menace of the Underworld, makes one of the Advertiser's most interesting stories.

HOW MUCH MONEY does a glamor girl need to pay her bills? Is there a possibility that, like Adelaide Moffatt, she would find a $750 a week income inadequate?

The Sunday Advertiser was curious and consulted a popular singer at society events. Her comments will amuse and entertain all New England young women.

WERE THE IRISH in America long before Columbus? The American Weekly, which is distributed with the Sunday Advertiser, tackles that problem tomorrow and learns the truth.

But interest in the Weekly certainly will not stop here. A great scientist, Dr. Myron Gordon, ichthyologist of Cornell and Yale, investigates the strange tales of the "Seaweed Continent." Those who wonder why ships disappear will find convincing explanations in this feature.

BRADSHAW N. Y. World's Fair Bonanza for N. E.

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW
Financial Editor

The New York World's Fair is going to be something of a bonanza for New England . . . It is currently indicated that a tremendous flow of visitors will reach this section's famed vacation resorts . . .

The business community . . . if such a term [illegible] may be applied to those who may read [illegible] a New England resort and "pass [illegible]" . . . Manufacturers . . . [illegible] . . .

CONFIDENTIAL . . .

UNITED FRUIT . . . Big business [illegible] . . .

GOOD TONE . . .

MARKET ACTION . . .

NOTEBOOK . . .

Mixed Trends Follow Early Rally Failure

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—Stock prices turned somewhat irregular in a listless market when early [illegible] . . .

STRONG TREND IN TEXTILES

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—Prices of cotton print and broad cloth constructions were up ¼ cent a yard in Worth Street textile markets . . .

Price [illegible] . . .

SERVING NEW ENGLAND BUSINESS FOR NEARLY A HUNDRED YEARS BECAUSE . . .

- It provides regular merchant freight service to and from Canada and domestic U.S. points.
- Lake and Rail services to and from Chicago, Milwaukee and points West in connection with the Canadian National Railways, Toledo, Cleveland and other lake ports.
- It offers shipments via rail from New England to Canada and domestic U.S. points.

FOREIGN FREIGHT DEPARTMENT

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILWAY
In Connection with Canadian National Railways

NEW ALARM CORP. TO SERVE BOSTON

[illegible] . . .

Real Estate Loans

on residence property

Merchant's Co-operative Bank
24 School St., 2nd Floor, Boston
Henry H. Pierce, President
Largest Co-operative Bank in New England
Assets over $27,000,000

Spring Rise Signs Appear

NEW YORK, March 4 (AP)—A [illegible] . . .

Malden Savings Bank

MALDEN, MASSACHUSETTS

Money Goes on Interest the 10th Day of each month

Assets over $32,500,000.00

Carloadings Increase

NEW HAVEN, March 4 (AP)—Business improvement in [illegible] . . .

Treasury Statement

MARCH 4 (AP)

U. S. Balance	$4,339,255,973
Customs Receipts	$2,230,228

WHERE TO SAVE

SMALL ACCOUNTS ARE ALWAYS WELCOME

A small amount added weekly from your pay envelope will make it grow

INTEREST BEGINS ON DATES LISTED

Cotton Penny Savings Bank	Mar. 10th
[illegible] Savings Bank	Mar. 10th
[illegible] Savings Bank	Mar. 10th
[illegible] Five Cents Savings	Mar. 15th
[illegible] Savings Bank	Mar. 15th
[illegible] Savings Bank	Mar. 15th
[illegible] for Savings in Roxbury	Mar. 15th
[illegible] Savings Bank	Mar. 15th
	April 1st

—SUBURBAN—

Brookline Savings Bank	Mar. 15th
Newton Savings Bank	Mar. 15th
[illegible] Savings Bank	Mar. 15th
	April 1st

—NATIONAL BANKS—

Deposits in national banks will draw interest from said dates.
[illegible] National Bank (All Branches) . . . . . April 1st

—CO-OPERATIVE BANKS—

[illegible] Co-Op. Bk. Now shares on sale

—FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSN.—

[illegible] Fed. Sav., W. Sun. April 1st

GENERAL ALARM CORPORATION

Rendering Central Station Signal Service for

Automatic Fire Alarm, Watch and Sprinkler Supervisory, Burglary and Hold-up Alarms

Public Service Building 89 Broad Street

FREDERIC C. CHURCH, JR., PRESIDENT
NELSON B. IVES, TREASURER
CHARLES C. HEWLETT, VICE PRESIDENT
WILLIAM D. ROBERTSON, SECRETARY
CHARLES S. JOHNSON, GEN. MANAGER

AFL OPENS 'FINISH WAR' ON CIO HERE

[illegible] Massachusetts [illegible] Federation of Labor [illegible]

[illegible]

"Next move will be in the market district," said Nicholas [illegible] Morrissey, president of the Massachusetts Federation of Labor and business agent of Boston Teamsters Local 25.

"The CIO and its Communist agents have been getting a foothold in many market firms, especially in meat handling.

"We'll tie up the companies that have CIO organizations so tight not a side of beef will move.

"This is a finish fight. We've got the ball rolling now. There'll be no armistice until the CIO and the Communists are driven out of Massachusetts."

[illegible]

[illegible] the embargo was [illegible] [illegible] resulted from [illegible] between [illegible] and [illegible] Murphy [illegible] AFL [illegible] by the CIO [illegible] Retail Clerks [illegible] of two [illegible] agreement [illegible] AFL Retail Clerks International Protective Association.

[illegible] S. [illegible] Jr., State CIO head, appealed last night to Gov. Saltonstall to intervene and sent a proposal [illegible] to AFL leaders [illegible] a peaceful solution of the controversy.

He proposed three points for settlement: a return to the status [illegible] of Feb. 25 prior to the jurisdictional [illegible] settlement by arbitration of the differences between the two unions by a board named by the governor, and determination by election of the bargaining agent for four markets affected by the embargo.

THE Ken
NEW POLICY
NO COVER CHARGE
NO MINIMUM
AT ANY TIME
KEN SPECIAL
BROILED CLUB SIRLOIN STEAK 50c
4 FLOOR SHOWS NIGHTLY
Continuous Entertainment
DANCING
74 WARRENTON ST.

'Cowboy and Lady' On Bowdoin Bill

"The Cowboy and the Lady" continues on Bowdoin screen [illegible] together with "Mr. Moto's Last Warning," with Peter Lorre in his customary starring role. Gary Cooper and Merle Oberon are co-starred in the former picture.

'The Crowd Roars' For Repertory

Repertory's screen bill, starting tomorrow, will include "The Crowd Roars," with Robert Taylor [illegible] O'Sullivan, and "No Time [illegible]," with Mary Astor [illegible]

ROMANCE—Binnie Barnes, actress (above), and Moss Hart, playwright, didn't say no to talk of romance between them when they arrived in New York from Hollywood. "You can never tell," was her cryptic answer to question.

'Emile Zola' Epic Tremont Feature

Today is the final day on Tremont screen for "Life of Emile Zola," with Paul Muni in his finest screen portrayal, and Gale Sondergaard and "For the Kanga[illegible]," with Bing Crosby.

Coming tomorrow are "Lord Jeff," with Mickey Rooney and Freddie Bartholomew, and "Dangerous," which [illegible] Academy Award winner Bette Davis her first "Oscar."

Hollywood Paragraphs

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

[illegible] the life of John Paul Jones [illegible] from [illegible] Clements Ripley [illegible] of the American Navy [illegible] to Hal Wallis.

Ripley is headed for Hollywood to write the treatment and [illegible] with James Cagney who is to play the naval hero. Of course "[illegible] Your Faces" is down for Mr. Cagney's popular [illegible] Today on the Warner lot I heard that both Cagney and George Raft were definitely [illegible] from the [illegible] and that Humphrey Bogart, heaven help him, is to play America's top gangster [illegible]

• • •

The smile on Frank Lloyd's face that won't come off is all because of a cable Will Fyffe sent him from London saying he will be here April 6. Frank had set his heart on the British character actor to play the dour Scotch engineer in Paramount's "Rulers of the Sea," but several other companies were angling for him, so you can imagine Frank's delight when he was able to sign him.

Fyffe is not entirely unknown to Americans since he was in the Earl Carroll Vanities in 1936 and was seen here in "[illegible] Victor," one of Great Britain's most successful pictures.

"Rulers of the Sea" is a yarn about the fight between the old sailing boats and the steamers which [illegible] them as a mode of water travel.

New Role for 'Susan' Star

Only two performances remain in which to enjoy Gertrude Lawrence in Rachel Crothers' witty and [illegible] successful comedy "Susan and God" at the Shubert.

Following the Saturday night performance "Susan" and Miss Lawrence will part company, the former to continue on tour with [illegible] succeeding the [illegible] British actress in the starring role and the latter to rehearse for another John Golden production, Samson Raphaelson's "Skylark."

"Skylark," now in rehearsal under direction of the author, will be given a premiere performance at the Shubert on Monday evening, March [illegible]

Mr. Raphaelson describes his play as a comedy of American life concerning a modern husband and wife who [illegible] love each other but who find romantic [illegible] the very attractive home [illegible] for them.

Cagney Hit Coming To Normandie Screen

"Angels With Dirty Faces," with James Cagney and the "Dead End Kids," and "Thanks for the Memory," co-starring Bob Hope and Shirley Ross, open tomorrow on the Normandie screen. "The Great Waltz" and "A Man to Remember" are in their final day there today.

Lenten Screen Fare at Newsreel

Appropriate Lenten screen fare is the double feature bill now showing at the Newsreel Theater, [illegible] King of Kings," depicting reverently the life and [illegible] of Christ, and "The Life of Pope Pius XI," the full-length feature picture of the late pontiff, "The Pope of Peace."

So. Station Shows Musical Feature

[illegible] of the year [illegible] the screen at the South Station Theater this week [illegible] "Swing[illegible] in the Movies." [illegible] tops in its field [illegible]

Balokovic's Violin Enthralls Hearers

By RUTH MARSTERS

To hear Zlatko Balokovic's violin playing for the first time is a rare experience.

[illegible]

SURPRISING WORK

It is a surprising work coming from the pen that sketched the [illegible] [illegible] the author of "Patterns" also [illegible] of Faith."

Dr. Koussevitzky opened the program with that exuberant [illegible] of song that is Schumann's Fourth Symphony, closed with the [illegible] Strauss' tone poem "Also Sprach Zarathustra." The two works [illegible] at least as [illegible] extremes [illegible] performed.

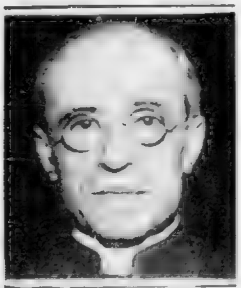
The same program will be repeated at this evening's concert in Symphony Hall.

SYMPHONIC PATTERN

The concerto, though written in one movement, has [illegible] the inner [illegible] of the traditional symphonic pattern. A [illegible]

Movie Clock

ORPHEUM—"Four Girls in W[illegible]" [illegible]
[illegible]
STATE—[illegible]
KEITH MEMORIAL—[illegible]
PARAMOUNT—[illegible]
FENWAY—[illegible]
OLD MEXICO—[illegible] 11 a. m. [illegible]
HOWARD—[illegible]
GLOBE—[illegible] of the Navy," "[illegible]"
GAYETY—[illegible]
TREMONT—[illegible]
[illegible]
BOWDOIN—"Mr. Moto's Last Warning," [illegible]
SOUTH STATION—[illegible]
OLYMPIA—[illegible] "The Great Man Votes," [illegible]
[illegible] "You're Only Young Once" [illegible]
SCOLLAY—"Jesse James," 11.25, [illegible]
UPTOWN—[illegible] "They Made Me a Criminal," [illegible]
MODERN—"Jesse James," 9.10, 1.05, [illegible] "Woman Doctor," [illegible]
NORMANDIE—"Valley of Giants," 9.45, 1.10, 4.40, [illegible] "Artists and Models Abroad," 11.20, [illegible] 9.45, 11.30 p. m.
REPERTORY—"We're Going to Be Rich," 11.50, 2.45, [illegible] "Lord Jeff," 1.10, 4.05, 6.50, 9.45.
NEWSREEL—"[illegible]" 11.50, 1.50, 3.55, [illegible] 10.10; "Life of Pope Pius," [illegible]



HIS HOLINESS, POPE PIUS XII

THE LIFE OF the newly elected
POPE PIUS XII
By THOMAS B. MORGAN

The Author of the "Life of Pope Pius XI," and "A Reporter at the Papal Court," now brings you the life story of the new Pontiff.

BEGINS IN TOMORROW'S
SUNDAY ADVERTISER
ORDER YOUR COPY TODAY

LEARN TO DANCE—ENROLL NOW!
Boston's Foremost Reliable Dancing School
15 Private Lessons $5
Uptown School Modern Dancing
330 Mass. Ave., at Hunt.
Personal Direction Miss Shirley Hayes
Tel. COM. [illegible]
Newest Ballroom Steps: Fox Trot, Lambeth Walk, Palais Glide, Waltz, Rhumba, Jive, Westchester, Shag [illegible] guaranteed to learn here
[illegible]
Miss Harriette Carroll's 25 Young Lady Instructors
Expert Young Men Instructors for Ladies

DINE AND DANCE AT THE BLUE ROOM
WESTMINSTER HOTEL
KARLE ROHDE
And His Orchestra
Best Dollar Dinner
In Town!
NO MINIMUM—2 SHOWS NIGHTLY

TENSE SCENE from George Bernard Shaw's Pygmalion, coming to Loew's State and Orpheum next Thursday.

'SOUTH RIDING' TOPS AT TRANS-LUX

No matter what your plans for this week, plan to see "South Riding" at the Trans-Lux Theater—particularly if you are a carping critic of the cinema.

Once in a while a picture like this comes along, and each time you wonder why we don't have more like it. Alexander Korda, producer; Victor Saville, director; and United Artists, who released the film, take a bow!

Having Edna Best and Ralph Richardson (and can't we get him over here, please?) is a joy, having a perfect cast, most of whose names mean nothing on this side of the Atlantic, and a splendid story, [illegible] almost too good to be true.

Adapted from a novel by Winifred Holtby, the story deals with the [illegible] and problems of the [illegible] a Yorkshire, England [illegible] [illegible] square and the local [illegible] trees.

But the film [illegible] present a [illegible] dressed up in new garments; characters are not brought in just for comedy relief or a [illegible] tears, dramatic [illegible] are not evolved just for [illegible] nation."

Without in any way being a propaganda picture, [illegible] both sides of [illegible] human problems [illegible]

[illegible] any [illegible] a nation.

The real story [illegible]

Schwartz Opens Here Monday

Maurice Schwartz' own drama [illegible] Monday [illegible]

[illegible]

MEDFORD SQUARE'S BILL

[illegible] showing on the [illegible] Only Young Once, with Mickey Rooney and [illegible] starring Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers.

AMUSEMENTS

LOEW'S STATE & ORPHEUM
TOPPER TAKES A TRIP
BENNETT-YOUNG
Funnier Than "TOPPER"
TWO SMASH HITS: 4 GIRLS IN WHITE
"PYGMALION"

NORMANDIE
Playing Sunday
ANGELS WITH DIRTY FACES
JAMES CAGNEY—PAT O'BRIEN & DEAD END KIDS

REPERTORY SQUARE
MICKEY ROONEY in LORD JEFF
MICKEY ROONEY ONLY YOUNG ONCE NEWSREEL THEATRE
MARIE ANTOINETTE

TREMONT
BETTE DAVIS IN DANGEROUS
MICKEY ROONEY LORD JEFF
NOW

TRANS-LUX
ALEXANDER KORDA Presents
SOUTH RIDING
Ann TODD Edmund GWENN
Edna BEST Ralph RICHARDSON
TRANS-LUX NEWSREEL DIGEST
CAREFULLY SELECTED SHORT SUBJECTS
THE PERFECT PROGRAM

THE OLD HOWARD
Midnite Show Friday
BURLESQUE
Next Week Lillian Dixon Robinson

COLUMBIA BURLESQUE
MANDY KAY'S BIRTHDAY PARTY
Frances McAvoy, "THE TASSEL QUEEN"
MAJOR STAGE PRIZE EVERY SHOW

UPTOWN 30c
John Garfield "Dead End" Kids
"THEY MADE ME A CRIMINAL"
PAUL LUKAS in "THE LADY VANISHES"

NEW GAYETY 15c to 12 Noon
STAGE VOGUES OF 1939 REVUE
SCREEN "ARTISTS & MODELS ABROAD"

BOWDOIN
NEW "MARCH OF TIME"
DONALD DUCK CARTOON
"COWBOY & THE LADY" Gary Cooper Merle Oberon
"MR. MOTO'S LAST WARNING"

STAGE PLAYS

SHUBERT LAST 2 TIMES
Gertrude LAWRENCE
SUSAN AND GOD with PAUL McGRATH

WILBUR Mon. Eve. 8:30
RUTH CHATTERTON
WALTER ABEL

COLONIAL TONIGHT & PROMPT
THE THEATRE GUILD
BURGESS MEREDITH
ORSON WELLES
FIVE KINGS
Production by ORSON WELLES

COPLEY THEATRE
MACBETH
LAST 7 DAYS
WPA FEDERAL THEATRE

AMUSEMENTS

GLOBE
"CONVICT CODE" with ROBERT KENT and ANN NAGEL
"KING OF GAMBLERS"
LLOYD NOLAN and AKIM TAMIROFF
NEWS AND COMEDY SHORTS

AMUSEMENTS

METROPOLITAN
2 MGM FEATURES! 10—BIG STARS!—10
WALLACE BEERY · ROBERT TAYLOR
"STAND UP and FIGHT"
ROBERT MONTGOMERY
Rosalind RUSSELL
"FAST AND LOOSE"

PARAMOUNT and FENWAY
"TAIL SPIN"
SCOLLAY SQ. MODERN
"JESSE JAMES"
OLYMPIA
"They Made Me A Criminal"

KEITH MEMORIAL
now
IN GLORIOUS TECHNICOLOR!
SHIRLEY TEMPLE in The Little Princess with RICHARD GREENE ANITA LOUISE WEDNESDAY
W. C. FIELDS
EDGAR BERGEN
CHARLIE McCARTHY
YOU CAN'T CHEAT AN HONEST MAN
CO-FEATURE "THE SAINT STRIKES BACK"

RKO BOSTON
NOW
Giant Stage Show
3 SMOOTHIES Sensational Radio Trio
HERMAN HYDE
SAUL GRAUMAN & CO
Other Big Acts
ON SCREEN
2 HIT FEATURES—2
SMASHING THE SPY RING
SILVER ON THE SAGE WM BOYD

PROGRAMS of your COMMUNITY THEATRES for SATURDAY

Programs AT YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD THEATRE FOR SATURDAY

ALLSTON
CAPITOL — FREE PARKING — They Made Me A Criminal; John Barrymore "Great Man Votes"

CAMBRIDGE
CENTRAL SQ. — HARVARD — "ZAZA" — "CROOKED MILE" — THE JONES FAMILY

DORCHESTER
CODMAN — FRANKLIN — "THE COWBOY AND THE LADY"; "THE LADY VANISHES"

FIELDS COR. — MORTON
"THANKS FOR EVERYTHING"
"Lawless Valley"; "Storm Over Bengal"; "KENTUCKY"; "DRAMATIC SCHOOL"

DORCHESTER—MATTAPAN
ORIENTAL — STRAND
"They Made Me A Criminal"; JOHN BARRYMORE—"THE GREAT MAN VOTES"

ROXBURY RIVOLI — WARREN
"They Made Me A Criminal"; JOHN BARRYMORE "GREAT MAN VOTES"; "Artists & Models Abroad"; "Ride a Crooked Mile"

DUDLEY—SHAWMUT
Mickey Rooney "HARDYS OUT WEST"; "SAY IT IN FRENCH"
"Thanks For Everything"; LUISE RAINER "DRAMATIC SCHOOL"

SOMERVILLE
STRAND — Luise Rainer, Fernand Gravet "THE GREAT WALTZ"; The Dionne Quintuplets "FIVE OF A KIND"

ARLINGTON
REGENT

ARLINGTON — SOMERVILLE
CAPITOL — CAPITOL
"DRAMATIC SCHOOL"; Errol Flynn 'Dawn Patrol'

BOSTON
SOUTH STATION
LOWELL THOMAS TOUR to NORWAY
FLOYD GIBBONS
2½ HOURS SHORT SUBJECTS • 3 NEWSREELS

BACK BAY — KENMORE SQUARE
KENMORE
LITTLE TOUGH GUYS IN SOCIETY
DICK POWELL HARD to GET

BROOKLINE
COOLIDGE CORNER
1938's BEST FILM THE LADY VANISHES
UP THE RIVER TONY MARTIN

BROOKLINE VILLAGE
BROOKLINE
GOING PLACES POWELL
NEWSBOYS HOME
SUN.—"THE DAWN PATROL"

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY
LORETTA YOUNG RICHARD GREENE KENTUCKY
And TONY MARTIN in "UP THE RIVER"
They Made Me A Criminal

CHARLESTOWN
DRAMATIC SCHOOL; SUBMARINE PATROL

DORCHESTER
DORCHESTER — MAT 2 EVE 7
KEN MURRAY-ERNEST TRUEX in "SWING SISTER SWING", also "ROLL ALONG, COWBOY"

MAGNET — CONTINUOUS 1 to 11:30 P.M.
Richard Greene-Nancy Kelly—"SUBMARINE PATROL"
James, Lucille & Russell Gleason—"HIGGINS FAMILY"

EVERETT—WOBURN
CAPITOL and STRAND
MICKEY ROONEY "Out West With Hardys"; "Arrest Bull. Drummond" SHINING HOUR; "SWING THAT CHEER"

EVERETT — WATERTOWN
PARK & COOLIDGE
MARCH OF TIME

JAMAICA PLAIN
MADISON

MALDEN
GRANADA
JOHN GARFIELD • DEAD END KIDS
THEY MADE ME A CRIMINAL
GREAT MAN VOTES

MYSTIC
Kay Francis, Ian Hunter "Comet Over Broadway"
Also "SMASHING THE SPY RING"

STRAND
PAUL LUKAS in "LADY VANISHES"

MEDFORD
MEDFORD

MEDFORD—MELROSE
FELLSWAY — NEW MELROSE
BING CROSBY
KENTUCKY
Preston Foster "UP THE RIVER"

NORTH STATION
LANCASTER
"GOING PLACES" DICK POWELL

REVERE
BOULEVARD-REVERE
"Off the Record"
RALPH BELLAMY "SMASHING THE SPY RING"

SOMERVILLE
DAVIS SQ.
DENNIS O'KEEFE—"THE CHASER"
TEELE SQ. "THE CITADEL" "FIVE OF A KIND"
SOMERVILLE "Suez"
BROADWAY "MEN WITH WINGS"; "Bulldog Drummond in Africa"

SOUTH END
NATIONAL
Jack Benny, Joan Bennett—"Artists & Models Abroad"

WATERTOWN
WATERTOWN SQ.
PENNY SINGLETON—"BLONDIE"
FRANCES MERCER—"CRIME RING"

LIFE SIZE BUT SHE'S A MIGHTY MITE

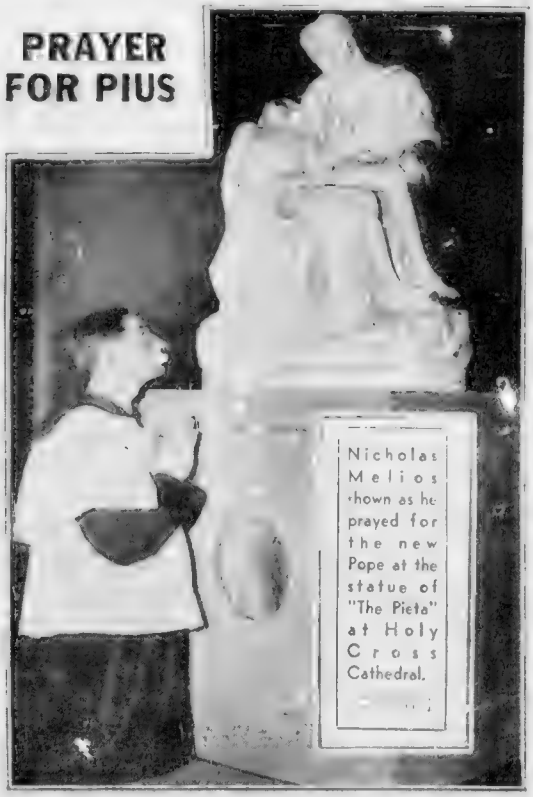
Just a handful. And here's a life-size picture of Florence McCaffrey, 20-ounce baby, who is being fed by an eye-dropper at St. Albans, L. I.

COMING UP

RINGING THE BELL

Don Ameche and Loretta Young, shown here in the first film to be released under the Twentieth Century-Fox and Cosmopolitan productions agreement. They are starring in "The Life of Alexander Graham Bell."

PRAYER FOR PIUS



Nicholas Melios shown as he prayed for the new Pope at the statue of "The Pieta" at Holy Cross Cathedral.

Irish
Charles ingredie

Cathed

Gone—but not with the wind. Columns here are all that remain on the building on Otis street being torn down by wreckers. A chance to see a little more sky, huh?

Bread and Irish tea and the favorites on Eamon DeValera's menu, so when he visits Boston some time in May he'll get it from Joseph Burns, of Park street, own, who has been baking the bread for the past 20 years. Above, you see him getting the nts ready.

al Altar Boys Here Pray for Pope Pius XII, New Pontiff of Catholic Churc

EASTER PREVIEW OF WHAT THEY'LL WEAR

Here's a preview showing of what milady will wear on the Easter parade. At top, Marie Wilson, screen star, is shown in straw chapeau edged with soft pink wheat. Sporting is the word for the saucy model in pink straw in the middle, while below is a brown straw with plaid trimming.

The Life of Christ

CHAPTER SEVEN

For Forty Days Jesus Fasts and Prays Alone in the Wilderness

By COLLIN CLINE

LENT is a season of prayer. Thus, the picture showing [illegible] kneeling [illegible] wilderness is as significant as [illegible] spring.

For forty days [illegible] tells us, He remained [illegible] He [illegible] not a morsel of [illegible] only [illegible] was the bird over [illegible] a [illegible]

[illegible] unbelievable today [illegible] be remembered [illegible] the Law of Moses [illegible]

Long [illegible] observance [illegible] Day of A[illegible] Moses [illegible] a special service [illegible] High Priest [illegible] on the head of a [illegible] children of Israel.

Afterwards [illegible] would lead the goat [illegible] and there permit it to run away.

This [illegible] "scape-goat," as it was called, [illegible] the removal [illegible] of God's people [illegible]

The [illegible] found expression in the [illegible] of Christ. That is why [illegible] Baptist said of Jesus: "Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sins of the world."

The [illegible] picture today shown, is a masterpiece [illegible] noted [illegible] sculptor, Domenico Mastr[illegible] first [illegible] in wax and then skilfully [illegible] them.

TOMORROW, in the Boston Sunday Advertiser, the Life of Christ will be continued, with one of the world's most famous portrayals of Our Saviour used as an illustration. The reader who concentrates his attention on this portrait will be amazed to note that the closed eyes seem to open. It is a miracle of the great genius of Leonardo Da Vinci, fifteenth century artist.

LATE BY 150 YEARS, Massachusetts [illegible] ratified the Federal Bill of Rights and [illegible] Commonwealth [illegible]

The action, of course, is simply a [illegible] negligence of our ancestors, we have [illegible] guaranteed by the Constitution's important [illegible]

None the less the action deserves praise. [illegible] attention to the Bill of Rights and what it [illegible] when freedom in many nations [illegible] the dim past.

We have a suggestion and there could [illegible] time to [illegible] it. LET EVERY MASSA[illegible] MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD READ THE BILL OF RIGHTS AND THEN RESOLVE TO PROTECT IT FROM THE [illegible] THINGS THAT WOULD DESTROY IT.

It was not without truth that Governor [illegible] as he transmitted the ratification document to [illegible] Hull:

"Freedom of speech, assembly and the press [illegible] of law are as much in jeopardy now as when our ance[illegible] the safeguards."

Human Side of News — by EDWIN C. HILL

THE 75TH BIRTHDAY of Sir Wilfred Grenfell, great humanitarian of the bleak coast of Labrador, occurred on the last day of February. It was a re[illegible] that nobility of character and [illegible] self-sacrifice still [illegible] in this [illegible] age.

Forty-seven years ago God re[illegible] there was such a [illegible] Labrador. It came to [illegible] all along that bleak [illegible] human beings by the [illegible] abject mis[illegible] and coughing their [illegible] coast in the world.

[illegible] 1892 a [illegible] from [illegible] bearing a [illegible] named Wil[illegible] He was on a [illegible] without [illegible] And that mission [illegible] from ex[illegible]

[illegible]

SIR WILFRED GRENFELL

Moody [illegible]

[illegible]

He made up his mind that the souls of men were in as much need of physicians as their ailing bodies.

When he was graduated from Oxford and finished his medical studies he crossed the Atlantic and went to Labrador. He found misery, ignorance, starvation. He found a land of forgotten souls.

And there he began his life's work, one of the finest achievements to the credit of mankind. He built his first hospital. He established cooperative stores. He began to teach. He married the young and buried the dead. He faced savage winds, intense cold. He endured it all, eagerly, gladly.

HE IS 75 NOW, a frail man, so [illegible] the light of goodness [illegible] soul glows [illegible] body. In his [illegible] Northern Lights [illegible] His hair is [illegible]

[illegible]

Girl About Town — by MARY X. SULLIVAN

"WHAT TIME does the [illegible] boat sail?"

[illegible]

Of these are regular commut[illegible] who make [illegible] Among [illegible] second boys, [illegible] just as the [illegible] up and get [illegible] the world if they miss [illegible]

Among the questions the agents [illegible] are these:

"[illegible] there won't be a [illegible] tonight?"

"Will there be a moon Wednes[illegible]" This from a sweet, young [illegible]

"Which is the shady side of the [illegible]"

TICKET AGENT MUST KNOW ALL THE ANSWERS

[illegible] Margaret Scanlon of Dorchester

[illegible] on board [illegible]

And [illegible] in the [illegible]

BEST QUIP [illegible] recently came from [illegible] H. Seger, former [illegible] German R[illegible] at the Twentieth Century Club:

In Germany today everything that is not compulsory is forbidden.

THERE'S NO END to what skiing has done for New England industry. A South Boston concern has boomed making engines for [illegible] in the New England hills. The Plymouth Cordage Co. is busy supplying a special non-[illegible] rope.

A Haven of Peace — by HUGH S. JOHNSON

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Both for appeasement of the "have-not" nations by providing them with raw-materials, and as a solution for the terrible problem of the [illegible], racial and political refugees, an ambitious plan is being quietly discussed among men of such standing, [illegible] experience and responsibility [illegible] it as a [illegible] dream.

It is a proposal to develop by high-power modern methods in a few years or decades, what was created over here in the hard way over a couple of centuries—a new and strong [illegible] nation as a "haven of safety and opportunity for the poor and oppressed of every nation."

IN THE PLAN, as it is being [illegible], there would be no such haphazard settlement and colonization as peopled this continent. The [illegible] guard would be engineers and scientists who would decide when, where and how settlement would be made and what would be necessary for health and economic development on a plan balanced among industry, agriculture and mining.

A constitution guaranteeing

YOUNG REFUGEES

A New Land for Them?

both human and property rights and a democratic form of government would be prepared as a charter. The peace and neutrality—both military and economic—of the new nation, would also be guaranteed.

The immigrants would be prepared by at least a year of military service and a year in a la[illegible] [illegible] something like our [illegible] to provide training.

Of course, this magnificent project would require money—very big money. [illegible] very great nations which want to see this problem solved for the sake of its own peace and security should be willing to donate.

THE GREAT question in previous colonization plans was whether colonists would come. The difficulty was that there were not enough funds to finance their coming. Never since the first American Colonies was the pressure of persecution so great. Never, at any time, did money in such vast amounts seem so available.

It may be visionary but no one yet has said that it is impossible.

(Copyright, 1939, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or part [illegible]. All rights reserved.)

EDITOR'S NOTE.—Contributors who sign articles are allowed to express their thoughts freely in the Boston Evening American so that readers may have the advantage of various views on important topics. The views of these contributors, however, are not necessarily endorsed by the Boston Evening American. They are printed on their face value, and must be considered on their face value.

James Farley

Broadway Medley

WHY JIM FARLEY TOOK TRIP ON COSTER BOAT

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK, March 4.—[illegible] Jim Farley's [illegible] Musica [illegible] the Department [illegible] Farley dined at the New York Yacht Club [illegible] Staten Island by ferry. [illegible] suggested that some yacht moored at the club might take the Postmaster General [illegible] Staten Islander, general . . . The commodore of the yacht club informed that the only yacht in commission was the Carcinia whose captain suggested that the owner's permission be secured . . . Farley's secretary called F. Donald Coster who gave his consent . . . After the Carcinia took Farley to Staten Island and back he signed the guest book: "Thanks for a lovely trip across the Kill to Staten Island and back to New York."

• • •

FOOD [illegible] Mayor La Guardia has been placed upon a strict diet by his physician . . . Fiorello is permitted to eat steak but the one dish he positively must not touch is spaghetti.

• • •

Mayor LaGuardia

EMPLOYMENT [illegible] The New York Times reported that Eleanor Roosevelt was attending last night's premiere of the WPA Federal Theater's "Swing Mikado." Sam Zolotow, the Times drama editor, received a message from his editor assigning him to ask Mrs. Roosevelt about that 80-year-old Westerner who told the newspapers that he had received a WPA job by writing to Mrs. Roosevelt and hearing from her . . . Zolotow approached the First Lady during intermission and asked her about this story . . . "I don't know," Mrs. Roosevelt frankly confessed. "I write so many letters I forget what I write."

• • •

MUSIC [illegible] When Benny Goodman broke the record at the Fox Theater in Detroit this week his mother sent him a framed plaque on which was inscribed Oliver Herford's line: "Here's to Music—joy of joys—one man's [illegible] another man's noise." It was signed "Queen Mother of Swing."

• • •

LOCAL NEWS: Ted Husing, who emerged from the hospital recently, is back there now at Lenox Hill . . . A Philadelphia school suggested to Random House, which published the play "The American Way," that if the play were rewritten as a novel, they'd order 10,000 copies and use it as a textbook . . . Wolcott Gibbs is writing a Profile of Alexander Woollcott for the New Yorker. It will be done in the Woollcott . . . Also not Gibbs style . . . The Monte Carlo has become the town's newest favorite . . . Leon Turrou, who became an ex-G-man when J. Edgar Hoover refused to accept his resignation, will have his second book published next month. It will be called "How to Be a G-Man."

By GEORGE HOLLAND

THE AFL and CIO [illegible] in New England [illegible] story from Miami [illegible] sleeping car porters [illegible] . . . In an application [illegible] over the right to [illegible] in their unit, the sleeping car [illegible] by stipulating that [illegible] Caucasian red caps [illegible] according to particulars from Miami [illegible] read if the application is granted . . . The CIO is expected to organize the white [illegible] porters . . .

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: [illegible] are finding The Green Pagoda in The Fenway a source of fine Chinese dishes . . . It's getting [illegible] folks wend their way towards [illegible] the swanky suburbs . . .

Mention of anything Chinese [illegible] for a reference to that famous female Oriental [illegible] Her place in Chinatown is thriving as a [illegible] New York spots are doing nicely [illegible] One would imagine that seeing her name in type in the Hollywood columns—Harrison Carroll carries a [illegible] would make Ruby smile with pleasure . . . [illegible] She maintains that the Hollywood spot has no right to use the name . . . The lowdown from the West Coast, however, intimates that Ruby was slow in the matter of getting a lawyer in time . . . [illegible] has a signed authorization [illegible] in Hollywood . . .

CLYDE ENGLE [illegible] and assistant baseball coach at Yale [illegible] Miami . . . Former Representative Martin L. Sweeney [illegible] has returned from Washington where he huddled briefly with Postmaster Farley . . . [illegible] son of the former governor [illegible] Holy Cross [illegible] . . .

Tony Veador, the [illegible] Wessagussett Harbor in the summer [illegible] will be the subject of discussion Monday night when the Weymouth authorities meet to consider whether Tony and his boat will be continued in service . . . Hundreds of Bostonians who have cottages at Wessagussett will be rooting for the man who has been saving lives and property for a dozen years.

Del Bissonette of the Brooklyn Dodgers [illegible] way, the sporting goods magnate [illegible] is a cinch to make good with the Bees . . . And Dan Hewley is higher than a kite on the chances of Jimmy Outlaw . . . Bill Doyle, who directs the entertainment policy at the Copley Plaza, was dealt a [illegible] blow when a brother and his mother died within three days. On behalf of many of his friends [illegible] deepest sympathy . . . [illegible] Boston representative of Paramount [illegible] in Mickey Alpert's comical contest [illegible] with talent at the Bradford Penthouse last night . . . Only one of the boys, Leo Talent, [illegible] himself possessing enough talent to participate.

EXCLUSIVE: [illegible] Governor Francis P. Murphy of New Hampshire is trying to get the Olympic games for the state of New Hampshire in 1944 . . .

In the two big races today [illegible] who hasn't won a bet since November 19 is parlaying Stagehand and Heelfly.

Hollywood Today

CLARENCE BROWN DIRECTS 'THE RAINS CAME'

By Louella O. Parsons

Clarence Brown

HOLLYWOOD, March 4.—[illegible] of Brigham Young [illegible] Loretta Young [illegible] Mormon leader [illegible] biography [illegible] and Livingston [illegible]

When I talked [illegible] Fox last week [illegible] is deader than a [illegible] good his word [illegible]

"Brigham Young" [illegible]

Myrna Loy

[illegible]

JUST CAN'T KEEP [illegible] Brown [illegible] Darryl Zanuck [illegible] "The Rains Came." [illegible]

Myrna Loy [illegible] MGM [illegible] and will find her "Gone With the Wind" [illegible] on this one. Thank goodness we [illegible] other one.

• • •

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: Kay Francis has been nursing her [illegible] a streptococcic throat. Marlene Dietrich [illegible] so she is going to Palm Springs instead of Santa Anita today. [illegible] the Duchess of Sutherland.

Deanna Durbin [illegible] Joy Hodges [illegible] Pat Wadsworth Jr. [illegible] become a good American [illegible] boy friend [illegible] are renting a [illegible] novelty even for Hollywood. Annabella, Tyrone [illegible] Robert Young [illegible] Yosemite for a week-end of skating. Nancy Kelly [illegible]

More news about Hollywood by Louella O. Parsons [illegible]

LISTEN, WORLD! -:- -:- By Elsie Robinson

GENERALLY SPEAKING, we Americans were a sometimes crude outfit back in Grandpa's time. We couldn't speak a smitch of French . . . and we thought caviar was related to the hoof 'n' mouth disease (Which I'm not yet sure it isn't!) We'd never heard of Halitosis or Dishwater Hands. There wasn't a radio in the nation, nor a perfumed cigarette, and our domestic conveniences were usually regulated by remote control.

Yet there was one evidence of civilization which we all supported 100 per cent and which you could bet on finding wherever you went, even in those primitive outposts where gents slept in their shooting irons and spurs. I refer to that practically obsolete institution—POLITENESS.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT, this nation had manners—ONCE. We weren't much on the fancy palaver . . . but when it came to kindness and consideration we held a full house.

But today—well, judge for yourself, Mabel. Not that I'm fussy. I never did see why an able-bodied woman should expect some man to open her door or fetch her chair. And these females who hold male jobs and absorb male whiskey yet insist on the poor guys acting as if Knighthood were Still In Flower seem plumb unreasonable to me. So far as I'm concerned, no one needs to act ornamental. But I surely would like to see a little OLD-FASHIONED GOOD NATURE. And MRS. ALLEN EDSALL admits she could use a helping herself.

"Have you noticed the decline of common courtesy?" says she. "From being the friendliest people on earth I believe we have become the most [illegible].

"Father snaps at Mother because he didn't dare snap at the Boss. Mother resents the [illegible] and snaps back. Then [illegible] [illegible] neighbors [illegible] sides and the [illegible]

"IT IS AN AGE OF VICIOUS SNAKINESS. ARROGANCE AND SURLINESS ARE SEEN EVERYWHERE. EVERYONE IS ENVIOUS AND SNAKY. OUR PUBLIC MANNERS ARE A DISGRACE. CITY, TOWN, STATE AND FEDERAL CONFERENCES ARE MARKED BY DISGRACEFUL BRAWLS. YET WE DARE CRITICIZE OTHER NATIONS.

"How about a Be-Kind-to-Politeness Campaign? An annual Good Manners [illegible] perhaps [illegible] Courses [illegible]" I'd like to see it [illegible]

SO WOULD I, my dear. And while we're on the subject I'd like to take a particular poke at our THEATER MANNERS. Between those comrades who sprawl full length while you try to get in . . . and the others who stamp ruthlessly over your [illegible] . . . the Little Helpers who tell the whole story three reels in advance of each [illegible] . . . and the Enthusiastics who pant in your ear . . . and the Tired Business Men who sleep on your neck . . . Public conduct has become a Major Menace.

Smart Set Functions

By BETTY ALDEN

HITLER and Mussolini no longer tread the boards of Harvard's exclusive Hasty Pudding Club . . . which, those who indulge in deep and ponderous meditation will tell you, may indicate a trend . . .

At the Hasty Pudding costume [illegible] last year and the year before, there were enough [illegible] even the most ardent greasers [illegible] a few days ago a Harvard professor barred [illegible] of Messrs H. and M. from his [illegible] dance last evening there wasn't a single dictator . . . [illegible]

[illegible] equipment . . .

[illegible] . . . [illegible] king behind the grotesque [illegible] us lad was still chuckling [illegible]

Eavie Lilly Home From Florida for Fete

[illegible]

[illegible] the way from Florida to be the guest [illegible] constant beau at North Shore parties [illegible]

[illegible] of a tuxedo and enormous bare [illegible]

[illegible] Longstreth's guest; Don Thurber, Dick Holder, Beachie Talbot, Louise Harding, Nancy Nye, Jean Carpenter [illegible] D. Gannett, Mary West, Rosamond Higgins and hundreds of others . . .

Vincent Club Show Features Revealed

AFTER THIS YEAR'S Vincent Club show, Julia Barbour's friends will call her Stephen . . . for "Even Stephen" is the name of her song . . . It was composed by Mrs. Stearns Poor, and if it makes half the hit of Julia's famous "Whaddaya Think My Heart Is Made Of . . . Balloon" it will certainly be [illegible] in the Hasty Pudding extravaganza the following week . . .

The famous comedy team of Turner and Rantoul is back in the Vincent show in a skit called "As Others See Us" . . . These two, Connie Turner and Lucy Rantoul Thorndike, never fail to give the audience their money's worth of laughs . . . but they haven't teamed up for a couple of years, during which one partner married and the other became engaged . . .

HASTY PUDDING BOYS ENTERTAIN AT THEIR ANNUAL DANCE

CHARLES MEYER and Susanne Seyburn, summer neighbors on the North Shore, catch up on the news of the town between dances at the Hasty Pudding costume dance.

EVERY FEMININE GUEST at the Hasty Pudding dance gets a little Pudding seal as a momento and here is J. Henry Alexandre helping Elizabeth Dixon Clarke put hers around her neck. She is from Flushing, L. I., and came from Smith for the dance.

Garden Booth At Big Show

Though we haven't heard any [illegible] robin as [illegible] signs of [illegible] the an[illegible] March 21.

Mrs. Edward Moore of [illegible] New England [illegible]

On hand to act as salesgirls will be many society women, including [illegible] Mrs. William [illegible] Mrs. Burton Ham[illegible] H. Hansel [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] Paine, Mrs. A. William Reggion and Mrs. [illegible]

Notre Dame Grads To Hold Benefit Dance March 11

[illegible] Notre Dame [illegible]

Mrs. [illegible] Mrs. Joseph Dwyer and Mrs. William Cameron.

Attractive Catherine Murdock will head the graduates selling [illegible] Rosemary Doyle, Agnes Scollard, Julia Cardy, Grace Kelly, Rose [illegible] O'Connell.

POLLY CRIMMINGS MARGARET SULLIVAN

Boston Evening American Photo

PROMINENT in Trinity College alumnae activities is this attractive pair of graduates, Polly Crimmings of Newton and Margaret Sullivan of Somerville. A varied program of spring events has been planned by the group.

Philomatheia Group Plans Bridge

Many pleasant features have been planned for the Senior Philomatheia Club green bridge Wednesday afternoon, March 15, at the Chestnut Hill clubhouse.

Chairman of the benefit in aid of the scholarship fund, Mrs. Daniel J. Holland, will present Mary Brennan in an illustrated lecture of her experiences at the Eucharistic Congress in Budapest.

During bridge, Mary Galvin Breen will sing, accompanied by Mrs. George Flood. Presiding as pourers will be Mrs. John C. Cleary, Mrs. John Crowell and Mrs. David [illegible]

Chairman of the tea arrangements, Mrs. James Bryan, is assisted by Mrs. John Manning, Mrs. [illegible] Mrs. James McDonough, Mrs. [illegible] Mrs. William Bannan, Mrs. John D. Lawler, Mrs. Daniel J. Cove[illegible] Mrs. [illegible] and Mrs. Thomas [illegible]

[illegible]

Penny Sale In B. C. Hall

As inevitable as [illegible] annual penny sale of the Junior [illegible]

[illegible] visor to the junior group, and her sisters, Angela and Mary Elena Albre.

[illegible] McCarthy, all of [illegible]

HELEN KELLEHER TO WED TOBIN AIDE

Joining the ranks of the brides [illegible] Helen Elizabeth Kelleher [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kelleher, have just announced her engagement to William Thomas Doyle of Jamaica Plain.

Miss Kelleher is prominent in [illegible] Club affairs. Mr. Doyle, son of Mrs. Mary Doyle of Jamaica Plain, is a member of Mayor [illegible] staff.

AUDUBON SOCIETY SPONSORS LECTURE

With spring just around the corner, bird lovers are taking a renewed interest in the study of their feathered friends. Many prominent nature lovers are attending the lecture by Dr. George N. Sutton, in John Hancock Hall this afternoon, under the auspices of the Audubon Society.

Dr. Sutton's subject deals with his well rounded bird adventures in the State of Oklahoma.

EMMANUEL GROUP OFFERS FAIR TRIPS

A trip to the World's F[illegible] both San Francisco and New [illegible] is the lure which Emmanuel College alum[illegible] their annual spring [illegible] Kenneally of Belmont, chairman, is also offering a prize for the graduate selling the most chances.

You Can be Beautiful

Hands With Look of Leisure

By ARLINE GOULD

ARE YOUR hands to be the give-away . . . that your claim to youth is not particularly well founded . . . in a spring when youth is the essential keynote?

In the clear searching light of an April day you cannot hide the roughness, reddened wrinkles [illegible] of hands whose hold [illegible] is slipping.

You can outwit these [illegible] factors that work and play stamp on your hands.

[illegible] work, water and weather.

[illegible]

DAILY TREATMENTS

[illegible]

First: Apply [illegible] nail [illegible] your fingertips [illegible] [illegible] Massage it into the [illegible] around them and into the [illegible] tapering each one by drawing them between thumb and middle finger.

Second: Use a brand new hand cream that has the [illegible] the same care [illegible] used in salon [illegible] ments that bring youth and radiance back to crepey throats and tired lined faces. It has actual biological ingredients which replenish youth-vital elements to the skin of your hands.

It's splendid for wrists, arms and rough elbows. Reddened hands are soothed immediately.

DOWNY-SOFT GLOVES

Third: After a thorough massaging into the hands of both nail tonic and cream, don a special new pair of downy-soft gloves, included in the set. Leave them on all night. They're light and silky, entirely stain-proof and washable; they concentrate the action of the cream which also means that bed linen is never stained.

To learn all about this remarkable new hand beauty set of cosmetics and gloves, phone Arline Gould, LIBerty 4000, week days until five-thirty, or write her at the Boston American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

SO EVERYONE will think . . . these are among the loveliest hands the world of lovely women boasts . . . like those of Merle Oberon . . . give yours a regular every-day treatment with a miracle-working new hand beauty set that Arline Gould discovered.

Good Manners

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Will you kindly answer this question for me? I have a daughter sixteen years of age, and she is in her third year of High School. She is quite advanced in every way.

Recently she met a young man of nineteen and they like to go places together. Although I do not object to her going, do you think it is correct for her to make appointments to go out with him without telling him that, although she would like to accept, she must first ask her mother? C.

This is just what your daughter should do. And since you are apparently such understanding friends, I am sure that she will be co-operative with you about this, if you talk it over with her. You can so easily explain that this is such a small thing you are asking of her, and by doing it she will be making every one concerned happy. You will be pleased with her co-operation with your wishes, she will be pleased that she has made you happy; and the young man will respect her so much more for her respect of you and of herself.

Cooking

Sunday Buffet Supper

By MARTHA LEE

"Come over and have supper with us Sunday evening" is an oft repeated invitation during these "tag end" weeks of winter. These little informal "get-togethers" have become very popular this year.

Certainly a Sunday night buffet supper is a simple and easy way to entertain. Hostesses have popularized the plan by serving attractive and appetizing meals that made [illegible] forget that they were still having to balance a plate on the knee.

Here's a suggestion for just such a supper:

SUNDAY NIGHT BUFFET SUPPER

Oyster Bisque and Crackers
Cheese Fruit Platter
Hot Cranberry Biscuits and Butter
Coffee with Cream

OYSTER BISQUE

- 1 pint oysters
- 1 teaspoon grated onion
- 1 bay leaf
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 1 quart milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Few grains pepper
- ½ cup cream
- ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Drain the oysters (reserving the liquid), chop finely and place in a saucepan. Add ¾ to 1 cup of the liquid, the onion and bay leaf and cook for about three minutes. Remove the bay leaf. Melt the butter in a double boiler, add the flour and mix well. Add the milk gradually and cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Add the oyster mixture, salt, pepper, cream and Worcestershire sauce and reheat. Serves six.

We suggest that the preparation for the Oyster Bisque be done in advance so that the two mixtures may be combined and heated while the biscuits are being baked and the fruit platter being arranged or removed from the refrigerator.

CHEESE FRUIT PLATTER

Place lettuce leaves on a large platter or chop plate to form two cups and fill with cottage cheese. Arrange fruit attractively on additional lettuce leaves to fill platter. Fresh or canned fruits may be used. The following fruits are suggested: Grapes, pears, avocados, kumquats, tangerines, orange or grapefruit sections (oranges may be sliced), apple sections dipped in lemon juice and peel left on (apples may be put in salt solution for a few minutes to help prevent discoloration), persimmons, peach halves, banana fingers dipped in pineapple juice, pineapple spears or cubes or prunes.

Mayonnaise or salad dressing may be served in lettuce cup or small dish.

CRANBERRY BISCUITS

- 2 cups flour
- 2¼ teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon soda
- 6 tablespoons butter
- ¾ cup buttermilk
- Cooked cranberries

Mix and sift the flour, baking powder, salt and soda. Cut in the butter with 2 knives or rub in with the finger tips. Stir in the buttermilk, mixing just enough to moisten the dry ingredients. Turn the dough onto a floured board and knead lightly for a few seconds. Roll out to about ½ inch thickness and cut with a floured cutter. Place on a buttered baking sheet, brush with milk and top with cranberries. Bake in a very hot oven (450 deg. F.) for 12 to 15 minutes. This recipe makes 20 small biscuits.

Try cutting the biscuits in squares with a knife rather than using a cutter and having to work up tiny scraps at the end. If you do not use a cranberry sauce made of whole cranberries, try a mound of cranberry jelly on the top of each biscuit.

Smart Set Fashions

Little Girl Styles Lead

By ANNICE BRINK

HIGH FASHION acknowledges its favorite [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] fullness, many frocks for daytime or evening are going to find [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] the palm of [illegible] feet and [illegible] nail polish [illegible] hair brush over each nail, wipe away any of the veneer that trickles down at the sides. Finish with a brisk friction with the palm of the hand.

Advertisement

"JUST A COLD" But What Comes After?

[illegible]

FOR COLDS and BODY BUILDING
FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE
OVER 80 YEARS OF SUCCESS PROVEN MERIT

More Great Features Tomorrow

IN THE GREEN MAGAZINE

New England's Own Weekly Magazine

The Case Against Jack O'Neil

The story of the murder of Hattie McCloud for which the town drunkard was hanged, back in 1897—and the story of the controversy over his guilt, something which has never ended in Western Massachusetts.

A Call to American Bachelors!

Too many fortunes of our American heiresses have gone overseas to royalty. Now two more vast ones will be in circulation soon and the hunt will be on. What will happen when Gloria Vanderbilt and Brenda Frazier arrive in the marriage spotlight.

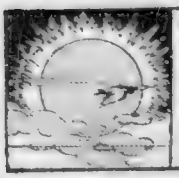
ALSO: "The Golden Horseshoe," by Dashiell Hammett; "The Life of Lotta Crabtree," by Ann Marsters; This New York, by Lucius Beebe; "Cape Cod Tales," by Elizabeth Reynard; "Hollywood Inside Out," by Ann Marsters; Walter Winchell; Mark Hellinger; "Boston After Dark," by George Holland; "She Walks In Beauty," by Carol Ames; News of Radio and the Theatres.

in the GREEN MAGAZINE

WITH TOMORROW'S

SUNDAY ADVERTISER

Largest Newspaper Circulation in New England



THE MOON AND THE WIND

By A. P. Carroll

STAID FATHER RAPS PLAYBOY STEVE

What Has Happened:

Gloria Vivian [illegible] is persuaded by her friend [illegible] to star in a motion picture [illegible] the [illegible] Woodward.

Because the [illegible] employs scenes from Gloria's past [illegible] to [illegible] She despises fish, she says. The mere mention of [illegible] her ill.

Mrs. Woodward, [illegible] anxious to sign her for a [illegible] contract, is [illegible] by her cold reception of [illegible] and [illegible].

The [illegible] comes when Gloria's [illegible] husband [illegible] his [illegible], which he [illegible] mentions to [illegible] SALMON [illegible].

Mrs. [illegible] to an East-bound plane and begs her to remain in Hollywood. She politely refuses. Mrs. [illegible] to [illegible]. As [illegible] out. So he, too, crosses the continent.

The [illegible] to Long Island, where [illegible] Vivian [illegible] are [illegible] a ball, [illegible] piano to Steve Greene, who, with a luxury [illegible] to [illegible] to comb the continent for adventure.

Again the scene shifts, and Father Greene, in his office, [illegible] Steve's irresponsibility.

THE SHOWDOWN! Banker Greene denounces Steve's indolent and irresponsible ways. In vain, Mother Greene defends her son's love for music and adventure.

Now Continue:

CHAPTER SIX

No matter how [illegible] it the cares and responsibility of a press job may be, there is a certain lightness and [illegible] about the [illegible] as long as one can leave the cares of business and family behind [illegible].

Let the same cares come treading in upon the heels of the office door, and the result is extreme confusion. And that is why the mind of Mr. Everard Greene was gravely confused, not to say [illegible] and distracted.

"If that woman calls again, I'm in conference," he barked into his [illegible].

"Holding a conference, Mr. Greene?" croaked the phone.

"Yes, [illegible] Days."

"Yes, sir. Oh, Mr. Greene! Mrs. Greene just came in, sir."

Everard Greene raised his hands to heaven and groaned. What was the point of Mrs. Greene's smart enough. Women always got at them somehow.

"Send her right in, Mr. Lord. No one else at home, eh?"

"Yes, sir."

He leaned back in his chair and closed his eyes. If only a way of his would only stop all this feeling around and be more confident to him. Trouble, trouble ever since he got out of Harvard.

He'd been a fool to think Harvard would whip them out and teach him some sense.

MRS. GREENE INTRUDES

Steve had seemed a boy. Remember when he came back from Europe with that French accent and that beard? Hmph. Got him over that pretty quick. If Steve would only settle down to business and—Mr. Greene's regretful musing was sharply cut short by the appearance of his wife, a large nervous, petulant beauty of 52.

"Hello, Grace. Now you came in on darling. I'm awfully distracted. Sit down! a terrific bitch and [illegible] a chair.

"I'm sorry, dear. Thought your secretary was [illegible]."

"She is. Mr. [illegible] is one of my greatest luxuries, committed to this. It's Vivian again."

Mr Greene groaned. "I thought so. She's been painting this city. Honestly, Grace, if [illegible] women would only remember that a man's office is a place where —"

"Oh, hush, Everard!"

"Maybe you'll get sometimes that I'm a 'banker.'"

"I'd hardly know it with my income cut as it has been this season. I certainly am delighted to hear that you are still in business. Everard."

"Thank you, my dear. Some days we do business some days we just sit and listen to the female members of our families."

"See that you go listen. Come on darling, you can see that it's got my hands and spare you the worry attached to it, you know I have. But frankly, it's got me down. If Stephen would acquire just the faintest glimmering of sense. If he would just try to adjust himself to the fact that he's got a wife and a business and a h—"

"Yeah? She's not a wife. Steve can't be blamed for that. And as for his business—"

"Yes, yes, I am perfectly aware of all the objections. Vivian. You know I never wanted him to marry her in the first place."

"All right, dear. Do [illegible] sympathy."

"I'm sorry. Ready, dear, [illegible] sometimes sadly lacking."

"Oh, [illegible] hard, Grace. We [illegible] a settlement that will [illegible] even if it [illegible]."

"He [illegible] Dear man eating [illegible] a couch of the Ritz. I [illegible] satisfy him."

"I [illegible] can handle him. If we [illegible]."

"You [illegible] been here? What [illegible]."

"He wants [illegible] of course. Wants to know where he's disappeared to."

"Hmph. I should like to know that myself."

"Well, [illegible] I dare say he's in a safe place. In bed, probably."

A GREAT COMPOSER

"He got his indolence from your mother. I always said so, and I'm sure I'm [illegible]."

"Bah! It wasn't the indolence he got it was the income. Dear mother was always a little visionary about her son. That's the mistake she made, giving him enough so that he can neglect his brokerage business."

"I agree with you, Everard. I'm flattered that at last you agree with me. What are we going to do?"

"Do? Do, a matter of what she asks for, through the divorce, and he thankful that we've washed our hands of her."

"I accept a quarter of what she wants? Really, Everard!"

Mr Greene sighed and shook his head. "I don't know. I get home at [illegible] by the hour. I [illegible] would pull himself together and [illegible] to something. I [illegible] care. That [illegible] him. What a [illegible] it ever get him? He's never [illegible] a bar of it yet, and I don't suppose he ever will. He'd better stick to bonds."

"Oh, had he? What's wrong with his trying to be a great composer? This family could do with a [illegible] genius right now, your side [illegible] might make up for some things."

"You're a very witty and [illegible] creating girl, my dear."

"What is said and [illegible] about bonds? Who knows what's going to happen to them? Who can tell if the market [illegible]."

"Hush! Hush, Grace! Suppose some investor should hear you! You'd start a panic."

"All right, Everard. Your humor is excellent, even if [illegible] not. I ask you just one thing. Lecture to Vivian. Don't be a [illegible] any more to say to her."

"Thank you very much, dear. I never thought of that."

"And if Stephen should come here—"

"Come here? I haven't seen the boy in two weeks!"

"Just the same, I have a feeling [illegible] he should, be nice about everything, please. Even if you can't [illegible]

"WHY, VIVIAN DEAR!"

[illegible] could [illegible] man. [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] him [illegible] very [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

TODAY'S CROSSWORD PUZZLE

By Eugene Sheffer

HORIZONTAL
1—grassy plain
4—cavities
9—overawe
12—paid publicity (pl.)
13—having a dull greenish-yellow color
14—veneration
15—savory
17—withdrew
19—showed approval
21—painful
22—more crude
24—crystalline white salt
27—beverages
29—pay attention to 31—note of the scale
32—remove
33—measuring rods
34—male
35—earth goddess
36—regenerate
37—shoal
38—attack
40—put on 42—burden
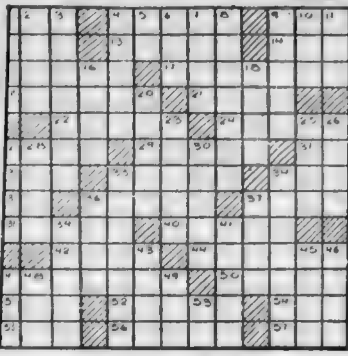
44—epistle
47—military rank
50—at one time
51—bustle
52—fetters
54—era
55—writing instrument
56—around the outside
57—directed

VERTICAL
1—young girl
2—Dutch cheese
3—desired earnestly
4—codified
5—symbol for aluminum
6—force
7—nights before holidays
8—supports
9—pupil in a military school
10—be in debt
11—marry
16—founder of Troy
18—Greek goddess of discord
20—devil
23—irritated
25—ardor
26—grain
27—Jason's ship
28—legal claim on property
30—stair post
33—plant having funnel-shaped flowers
34—warlike
36—city in Nevada
37—wagers
39—Athenian lawgiver
41—banquet
43—native of Serbia
45—border
46—tall grass
47—top
48—lyric poem
49—Chinese card game
53—letter of the Greek alphabet



YESTERDAY'S ANSWER:

N	O	D	E	#	A	S	S	#	M	E	E	T
I	B	E	X	#	B	U	T	#	I	N	T	O
L	I	T	E	R	A	T	E	#	S	N	A	P
#	#	E	R	N	#	U	R	A	S	E	#	#
W	O	N	T	#	B	R	E	V	I	A	R	Y
A	R	T	#	N	E	E	#	A	L	D	E	A
N	A	#	S	H	Y	#	H	I	E	#	B	R
E	L	A	T	E	#	M	I	L	#	D	U	N
D	E	L	I	R	I	U	M	#	N	U	T	S
#	#	A	G	E	N	T	#	F	O	R	#	#
H	A	R	M	#	E	T	H	E	R	E	A	L
A	R	I	A	#	P	E	A	#	I	S	L	E
S	A	C	S	#	T	R	Y	#	A	S	E	A

4 Doctors Wait Death Ruling

After a secret hearing which lasted into the morning hours Mayor Frank E. Lewis of Everett announced today he would make a finding in charges of an Everett mother that her daughter died through mistakes and neglect of four doctors.

His decision, he said, would come after he confers with City Solicitor Morris T. Silverstein.

The mother is Mrs. Alba Pierotti Danton of Avon street, whose daughter, eight-year-old Alba, died as the Boston Evening American was dispatching an oxygen tank to aid her in a battle against pneumonia.

"I shall confer on certain points in the case with City Solicitor Silverstein today and then make public my decision," Mayor Lewis said after the secret inquiry at Everett city hall.

Among those who attended the hearing as witnesses were the dead girl's parents and nurses and welfare workers.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1—Legal

TREASURY DEPARTMENT Office of District Supervisor—Alcohol Tax Unit—Bureau of Internal Revenue, Boston, Massachusetts. Date of first publication, February 25, 1939.—Notice is hereby given that on February 10, 1939 one Oldsmobile Sedan, motor No. L-[illegible], was seized in Suffolk County, Massachusetts for violation of the Internal Revenue Laws to wit: Section 3450, United States Revised Statutes. Any person claiming an interest in said property must appear at the office of Investigator in Charge, Alcohol Tax Unit, 919 Post Office Bldg., Boston and file claim and cost bond as provided by section 3460, United States Revised Statutes on or before March 27, 1939 otherwise the property will be disposed of according to law. SIDNEY SHERWOOD.

[illegible]

BOSTON AMERICAN

"New England's Greatest Evening Newspaper"

Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice at Boston, Mass., under the Act of March 3, 1879, also at the Post Office Department, Canada.

Published daily except Sundays and Sundays, 5 Winthrop Square, Boston, Mass., by the NEW ENGLAND NEWSPAPER PUBLISHING COMPANY. Telephone Liberty 6000.

Subscriptions by mail postpaid, one month, 50c; three months, $1.50; six months, $3.00; one year, $6.00. Boston Postal District 75c. month. Domestic rates include postage in the United States, Porto Rico, Philippines, Cuba, Hawaii, Alaska, Mexico, Canal Zone, Canada. Mail subscriptions payable strictly in advance. Rates to foreign countries $2.00 per month.

The Boston Evening American assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical error occurs. Advertisers will please notify the management immediately of any error which may occur.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for reproduction of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published therein. All rights of republication of special dispatches herein reserved by the Boston Evening American.

EMPLOYMENT

60—Employment of Women

WOMEN WANTED
ADDRESS OUR CATALOGS
each paid in advance, plus bonuses. Everything supplied. Free Details furnished. Royal Products, G. P. C. Box 161, Brooklyn, N. Y.

WOMEN EARN
$18.00 Dozen Sewing Dresses
Everything furnished. [illegible]

61—Employment for Men

[illegible]

62—Employment for Men and Women

AMATEURS
All Kinds Wanted
[illegible]

68—Instructions

BE A CERTIFIED WELDER
New England's Only Exclusive Welding School; Enroll now for Mid-Year Classes. New England Welding Laboratories, Inc. 80 St. Stephen St., Boston. Com. 4215

EARN WELDING $1.25 per hour Acetylene—Electric Mass. Trade Shops, 137 Oliver St. HUB. 1424

FOR SALE

127 Clothing—Furs

135—Radios—Equipment

[illegible]

MONEY TO LOAN

HEIRS Specialize Legacies, Trust Funds. L. Levi Co., 80 Court St. CAP. [illegible]

PERSONAL LOANS, NATIONAL LOAN SOCIETY 1458 Hancock St., Quincy. License 58

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1—Legal

TREASURY DEPARTMENT Office of District Supervisor—Alcohol Tax Unit—Bureau of Internal Revenue, Boston, Massachusetts. Date of first publication, February 25, 1939. Notice is hereby given that on February 10, 1939 one Ford Coach motor No. 8-2493[illegible] was seized in Middlesex County, Massachusetts for violation of the Internal Revenue Laws, to wit: Section 3450 United States Revised Statutes. Any person claiming an interest in said property must appear at the office of Investigator in Charge, Alcohol Tax Unit, 919 Post Office Bldg., Boston and file claim and cost bond as provided by section 3460 United States Revised Statutes on or before March 27, 1939 otherwise the property will be disposed of according to law. SIDNEY SHERWOOD.

2—Bids and Proposals

State Highway [illegible] Federal Aid Project No. [illegible] (1939) TOWN [illegible], Commonwealth of Massachusetts Department of Public Works. [illegible] highway reconstruction [illegible] bituminous macadam or Penetration wearing surface and a reinforced concrete box bridge, will be received by the State Department of Public Works at its office 100 Nashua Street, Boston, Mass., until 12 o'clock noon of Tuesday, March 28, 1939 and at that place and time will be publicly opened and read. Charge for specifications is $10.00, returnable only to bidders. Proposal guaranty shall consist of a certified check for $4000 or other security satisfactory to the Department. A bid bond will not be accepted. Minimum rates of wages have been established for the project and in no case shall they be less than $1.25, $0.825 and $0.625 per hour respectively for skilled, intermediate grade and unskilled labor (except water boy). Complete information may be obtained from the office of the Department. The right is reserved to reject any or all proposals. By: WILLIAM F. CALLAHAN, Commissioner of Public Works, Boston, Mass., March 4, 1939.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

9—Funeral Directors

J. S. Waterman & Sons
Funeral Directors
497 Commonwealth Ave., Boston

14—Church Notices

THE FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
(The Mother Church)
Falmouth, Norway and St. Paul Sts., Boston. Sunday Services at 10:45 A.M. and 7:30 P.M. Sunday School at 10:45 A.M. Subject of Lesson-Sermon:
"MAN"
Wednesday eve. meetings at 7:30 include testimonials of Christian Science healing.

10—Monuments

MONUMENTS
AT A SAVING—WRITE FOR DESIGNS
FRED. J. CRAIG, GRAnite 1687
[illegible] FEDERAL AVE., QUINCY, MASS.
Free Transportation

15—Lost and Found

Lost Something?
ALL ARTICLES published in the RECORD AMERICAN and the SUNDAY ADVERTISER are broadcast (now without additional charge) over Radio Station
WMEX
(1500 K)
AT 11:40 A. M.
For information Phone Miss James. LIB. 6000

[illegible] Fawn and Red [illegible] Brown [illegible] Lost [illegible] March 2 [illegible]

LOST [illegible] Chestnut [illegible] black cocker spaniel [illegible] answers to "Skippy." Liberal reward. Tel Long. [illegible]

BLACK, white and tan miniature female [illegible] 18 [illegible] lost [illegible] Feb. 25. Reward. [illegible] Hingham 0146 R.

17—Personal

[illegible] Write J. [illegible] Box [illegible] Quincy, Mass.

28—Professional Service

TRUSSES FOR MEN, WOMEN & CHILDREN without steel springs, elastic belts or leg straps. Our COMMON SENSE TRUSS is EASY to wear and SURE to HOLD. POWERS & JOHNSON [illegible] Boylston St. [illegible]

29—Medical

FREE, X-RAY
[illegible]

RENTALS

93—Moving—Trucking—Storage

5 Rms. $10 PIANOS, $4 Cha. 1858
INSURED VANS BONDED STORAGE 1st Mo. FREE
Work wanted [illegible] Ken. [illegible]

94—Unfurnished Apartments

CAMBRIDGE 5 rooms, fireplace, steam heat, tile bath, garage $45. Kel. 2472 R.

96—Furnished Apartments

Beacon Hill Furn. 3-5-Rm. Heated Apts. [illegible]

Everett [illegible] couple. Opt. for own. (Days) 23 Winter St.

100—Furnished Rooms

1 CONCORD SQ.—Neat [illegible] kitchenette suite, stm. ht., h. and c. water, lights.

BEACHMONT—3 furn. cozy heated rms., white sink, elec., handy, $7 wk. Revere 3152-R.

8 PEMBROKE ST.—Neat, clean, furn. kitchenette suites, hot and cold water, free light and gas, steam heat.

104—Children to Board

WANTED Small child to board, mother's care, reas. 11 West St., Cambridge.

AUTOMOTIVE

200—Automobiles For Sale

TAXI OWNERS ATTENTION
1929 CADILLAC [illegible] $60
[illegible]

'37 Packard 115 Coupe [illegible]
'38 Ford De Luxe 4-dr. Sedan [illegible]
'36 Dodge Conv. Sedan [illegible]
'36 Ford Conv. Coupe [illegible]
'37 Buick 5-Pass. Coupe [illegible]
'35 Willys 4-dr. Sedan [illegible]
Many more to choose from FINANCE CO.
15 Berkeley St. Han. 3363

DESOTO—DODGE—PLYMOUTH
[illegible] $325
'37 Plymouth De Luxe 4-dr. Trk. bed. $448
[illegible]—DESOTO, PLYMOUTH
[illegible] Artery and B'way, Somerville [illegible] Always open
'33 FORD CONV. COUPE [illegible]
'33 FORD SPORT COUPE [illegible]
'33 PONTIAC DE LUXE SEDAN [illegible]
'34 FORD TUDOR, RADIO, HEATER [illegible]
1540 Columbus Ave., Rox. GAR. [illegible]

'34 PLYMOUTH, $225
2-dr. Sedan, radio, heater, etc. Rox. [illegible]

GUARANTEED Auto Repairs on time payments. Accident work a specialty. Community Pontiac Co., 380 Wash. St., Brighton. ALG. 7780. Instant service.

'34 OLDS "6" Sedan, $145. Harold O'Neil, 464 Col. Rd., Dorchester. [illegible]

[illegible]

'32 Olds [illegible] De Luxe 4-dr. sed. sacrifice. B'way Chev. Corp. 130 B'way, Somerville. [illegible] $110

'33 DODGE 4-dr. Sedan [illegible] R. O'Neil, 464 Col. Rd. [illegible]

[illegible] $395
[illegible]

'36 Ford Coupe, Extras, Guar. $245
[illegible]

201—Trucks For Sale

AUTO CAR OIL TRUCK, $525
[illegible] DIAMOND T SALES & SERVICE 465 Cambridge St., Allston. Alg. 3200

White Furniture Van, $495
[illegible]-foot body. Easy terms can be arranged. DIAMOND T SALES & SERVICE 465 Cambridge St., Allston, Alg. [illegible]

[illegible]

202—Automobiles Wanted

SPOT CASH FOR YOUR CAR HIGHEST PRICES
CALL [illegible] SERVICE
BRILLIANT'S
32 BROADWAY [illegible] SOM. 2440

Cash for your Car or Beach Wagon
1 Hour Service. HARVEY. Everett [illegible]

100 Trucks Wanted. KABAS AUTO SALES. 965 Columbus Ave. GAR. [illegible]

DANCING

OSCAR HARKINS
BOSTON'S DEPENDABLE & FINEST EQUIPPED STUDIOS. QUICK RESULTS. NEWEST BALLROOM DANCES
10 LESSONS $3 PRIVATE AND CLASS 342 MASS. AVE. COM. [illegible]
Well-Trained Staff of Lady Teachers!

MODERNE STUDIO [illegible] MASS. AVE. COM. [illegible]
Private Lessons—Ballroom Dancing
Direction—MISS AUDREY MacDONALD

3 PRIVATE LESSONS. Miss Shirley Hayes. 330 Mass. Ave. at Hunt. Ave. Com. 0520. Beginners Guaranteed. Newest steps. Expert instruction. $1

L. & L. STUDIOS OF DANCING. 132 Boylston St. [illegible]
[illegible] PRIVATE LESSONS $5. Priv. & Class

THE LONE RANGER

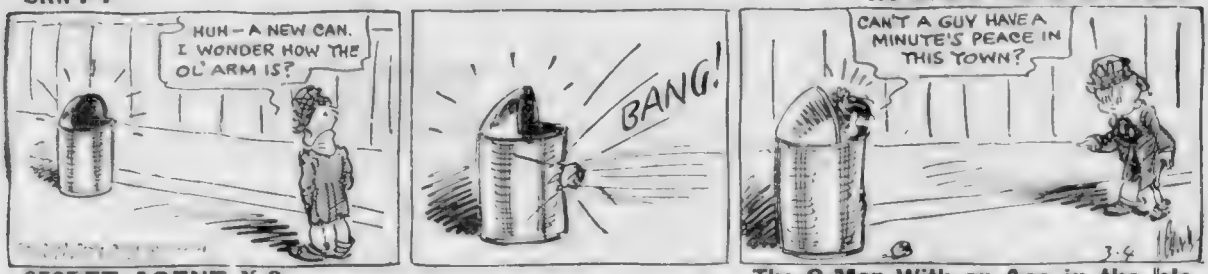
Oil on Troubled Waters

POPEYE

We're Having a Heat Wave

SKIPPY

He Didn't Aim to Do That!



SECRET AGENT X-9

The G-Man With an Ace in the Hole

JOE PALOOKA

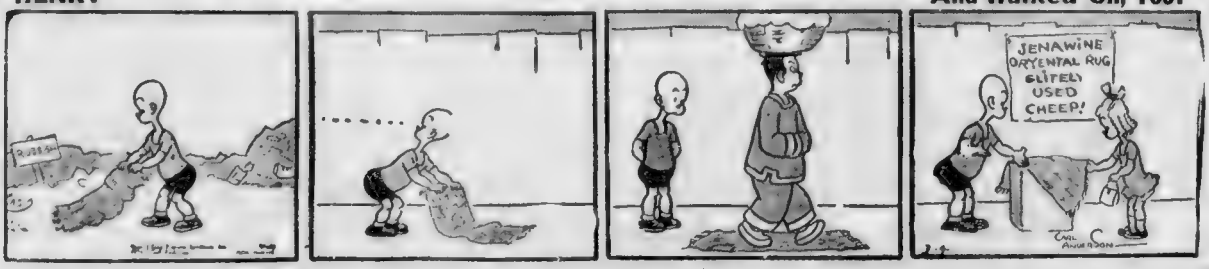
"I Think Youse Meant That"

MANDRAKE THE MAGICIAN

It's Only Your Imagination, Lothar!

HENRY

And Walked On, Too!



McLaughlin Backs Thompson and Voss | Chicago in Market For New Players

Though he refused to comment on his 1939-40 manager while the club was back-pedaling from the No. 4 slot to the takeoff, just as soon as the Chicago Black Hawks landed in the cellar, Major Frederic McLaughlin came out of his shell and announced that he fully intended to string along with Paul Thompson and Carl Voss, and moreover that "Chicago deserved the best hockey team in the world—and it's going to get it."

According to the Major, Paul Thompson will continue as manager of the Hawks and Carl Voss will be retained as coach.

There is no question but that with an outstanding N. H. L. club Chicago would be second to no city as a money maker for its promoters. And, if Major McLaughlin has finally come to this realization and goes into the open market and buys and trades until he has gathered a winning combination, the Windy City fans will prove that contention.

Major McLaughlin admits that there's plenty wrong with the Hawks but declares there won't be for long. However, he stresses trades and fails to mention outright purchases. On his current roster, the Major is not over supplied with trading material. So, it's going to require a large output of cash to create a winning club.

[illegible]

[illegible]

of overtaking the Rossmen in the battle for N. H. L. [illegible]

Bill Tilden, 3rd, the greatest tennis player ever produced, is in London and broke . . . When Leo Macdonnell, Detroit Times sports editor, was lowered out of a Pan-American Clipper ship recently at Havana, Cuba, Homer Rose, a grandson of Harry M. Stevens, the New York concessionaire, who parlayed a bag of peanuts into four or five million dollars, was at the airport to greet him.

More than 4000 persons have purchased $40,000 worth of season tickets for the games that the Washington Redskins football eleven will play at home next fall . . . George P. Marshall is reserving every seat in Griffith Stadium for next season.

Realizing that his worries for the coming season are confined to the St. Louis Browns, Connie Mack announced that as far as he's concerned his holdouts can remain at home . . . The New England Hockey Officials' Association is opposed to the "cage refereeing" system . . . They may not be good officials but they are, apparently, keen business men.

Fred Hutchinson, the Pacific Coast sensation, is glad that he was purchased by the Detroit Tigers rather than the Pittsburgh Pirates . . . If he proves a bust, the Detroit boos will be just as tough as those he'd have encountered in the Smoky City . . . Manager Jack Adams of the Detroit Red Wings, was down with the "flu" last week, but staged a remarkable comeback when his charges beat Americans . . .

Bill Dwyer, former owner of the New York Americans, is out at Tropical . . . A Chicago mob is operating that track . . . The Sherbrooke, Que., city fathers have voted to donate $1000 to help defray the expenses of their hockey club, the Red Raiders of the Provincial League . . .

There are two Greater Boston boys and four former Red Sox in the South with the Syracuse Chiefs . . . Bobby Brown, who stepped from Hingham High School to the Braves and Johnny Quinn, the Boston University infielder, who hails from the "Settlement" in Brookline, are on the Syracuse roster, as are "Wiggles" Porter, Johnny Kroner, George Hockette and Dick Midkiff . . . They're stretching the Provincial League playoffs to the breaking point . . .

Ziggy Sears, the National League umpire, has wished his son, Kenneth, an alleged catcher, on Joe McCarthy and the New York Yankees . . . England wants the 1944 Olympic games . . . When the Black Hawks can beat Rangers, Canadiens can stop Toronto and Detroit can trip up Americans, all in one night, without a squawk, hockey fans are the most trusting of all sport followers . . . Leo Dandurand has been elected vice-president of the Louisiana Jockey Club, to succeed the late Joe Cattarinich.

HARVARD, YALE SEXTETS IN TITLE DUEL AT GARDEN

By WALTER KILEY

The Harvard-Yale hockey series will be concluded at Boston Garden tonight when the Crimson and the Blue meet in the second and final game of the year.

Thanks to a 2-2 tie in the opening game played at New Haven a few weeks back, the title will be decided one way or the other this evening without the necessity of a third or rubber game.

[illegible]

BANK ON HARDING

[illegible]

Captain Austie Harding of Harvard, considered one of the greatest ever to wear a Crimson jersey on ice, won't be contented unless he can lead his sextet to a victory in the Garden tonight against the Yale Bulldog. He's the iron man of the Harvard team having played more minutes than anyone on the squad. The first Harvard-Yale game finished in a two all tie.

JOE PATRICK
Scored twice against Yale in the first game.

[illegible] game after game this [illegible] forward has survived [illegible] than 40 minutes of gruelling play.

[illegible] with Joe Patrick [illegible] Harvard [illegible] they have made a high scoring combination.

YALE TEAM FAST

Yale comes to Boston rated one of the fastest college teams in years, much faster than the Crimsons and better balanced. The Elis boast a great college goalie in Harry Holt, whose sophomore efforts at Boston Garden a year ago will long be remembered.

The Yale defense will be built around Fred Burr and Harold Howe with Clement Kite and Peter Pierson alternating. The first line is centered by Captain Gil Humphrey with Dud Humphrey and Paul Gillespie handling the wings.

Garden Lineup

HARVARD	YALE
Patrick, lw	rw, D. Humphrey
Capt. Harding, c	c, Capt. G. Humphrey
de Rham, rw	lw, Gillespie
Houghton, ld	rd, Burr
Jameson, rd	ld, Howe
Freedley, g	g, Holt

Harvard Alternates — Willetts, Eaton, Hulse, Cutler, Winslow, Ervin, Coleman, Carstein.

Yale Alternates—Toland, Rodd, Barnes, Hazen, McLennen, Curtis, Kite, Pierson, Boies, Seabury.

College Basketball

[illegible]

Mission Five Victorious

saw potential victory turned into defeat by the timer's gun a fighting De LaSalle Academy five from

In a heartbreaking battle which Newport, R. I., bowed to Mission High, 36 to 34, in the feature game of the sixth annual New England Catholic Interscholastic Basketball Tourney at the Arena.

The other night game between St. Bernard's High Fitchburg and Holy Rosary High Holyoke proved a walkaway for the former, which ran riot in the second period to win 42 to 20.

The Newport five seemed to have things under control but Tom Mulkern, Mission, sunk five points in rapid succession to put the locals in front 35 to 31 with but two minutes to play shortly after Tom Kelley sunk a foul shot to wind-up the Mission scoring. A field shot by Vin Frazier put De LaSalle back in the game. A split second after the gun was fired Frazier sent one singing for the basket which was clean but was not allowed.

In the afternoon games Our Lady's, Newton, downed Coyle High Taunton, 29-20, and St. Raphael's, Pawtucket, ousted St. Mary's, Claremont, N. H., 32-28.

This afternoon Mission meets St. Bernard's and St. Raphael's tangles with Our Lady's.

Eastern Slope Region
Conway—North Conway—Intervale
Open Slopes
21 Trails—9 Ski Tows
SUN., MARCH 5
$2.75 Round Trip
Lv. Boston 8.15 A.M.
Lv. Reading 8.35 A.M.
RETURNING
Lv. Intervale 5.10 P.M.
Lv. No. Conway 5.30 P.M.
Lv. Conway 5.42 P.M.
Also special service to Eastern Ski Championships at Laconia. Lv. North Station Sunday, 8 A.M. $2.25 Round Trip
Dining Car Service
Equipment for rent on Train
Travel by BOSTON and MAINE

PICK STAGEHAND TO WIN FEATURE

By DAVE WILSON

BEST BET—STAGEHAND

(Selections made for fast track)

HIALEAH PARK, March 4—With practically the same field he whipped in the mile and one-eighth of the McLennan Memorial two weeks ago, Maxwell Howard's Stagehand seems to have the added distance of the $50,000 Widener Challenge Cup at his mercy and should be along in time to cop down the major honors easily here

The Earl Sande trained son of [illegible] ... but ... sharp ... Bull Lea ... early lead in the McLennan ... was unable to ... of the [illegible]

[illegible] has two capable ... War Admiral ... a shorter ... and Sir Damion ... advanced ...

E. R. ... Mythical King ... Stagehand in the McLennan ... the ... make a ... run- ... Wright doing the booting.

Out on the coast the 100 "grand" race seems made to order for Townsend B. Martin's hard hitting Cravat. Strictly a come-from-behind animal, the stout hearted son of Sickle should have little trouble overhauling the early leaders in the run through the stretch.

The Martin ... can run ... have ... had a ... in an ... [illegible]

Sports Mirror

By the Associated Press

TODAY A YEAR AGO—Angelo (Hank) Luisetti, Stanford basketball star, set National collegiate scoring record by running his four-year total to 1250 points.

THREE YEARS AGO — Don Meade, rider for E. R. Bradley and winner of 1933 Kentucky Derby with Brokers Tip, suspended indefinitely at Hialeah.

Tap's Tips

Joe & Asbestos

By KEN KLING

Today Asbestos bets $5 for place on WHITE 25-17-21 at Oaklawn. Same horse in new code out today is Pansies 23-1-20.

Ken Kling's Late Special goes in the third race at Oaklawn, which appends:

THIRD RACE—[illegible]

6 xAlvera	1[illegible]	[illegible]
4 Anna	1[illegible]	[illegible]
3 Escalator	108	7 xTratan	108
5 xFloataway	108

Scratches

AT HIALEAH PARK

1—Espinaca, Dancing Cloud, Fleet Step.
2—Stockboard, Predestined, Col. Scott, Pradis, Broad Stripes.
4—Fight Back.
6—Teddy Weed, Warlaine.
7—Prince Derek.
8—Old Story, Erada.

AT OAKLAWN PARK

1—Superb.
2—Fair Volta, Pomplit, Caroanne, Margaret G.
4—Maleman.
5—Critt.
Weather, drizzling; track, fast.

AT FAIR GROUNDS

2—Masked May, Sweeping Vine, Royal Tuscan, Rail Down, Maytime, Wilful.
3—Mountkala, Determined, Valdina, Nathan Hale, Instead, Hedon.
6—Chance Bay.
7—Arachne, Topway, Maesak, Miss Webb, Union, Spey Crest.
8—Joe Jay, Blind Hope, Erech, Louise Q., Freeplay, Carl B.

AT HAVANA

1—Centermarch, Miss Harmful, Eager Belle, Little V., I Run, The Bouncer, Up in Arms.
3—Horee, Gay Tillie, Take Walk, Beatir.
4—Ga Peach, Sweet Manners, Vitonina, Sun Vestal, Silk Covering, Moonburn.
5—Oklaqueen, Bomount, Leesburg, Dawning Hope, Good Exchange, Sistova.
9—Declared off.
Weather clear, track fast.

AT SANTA ANITA

5—Wing and Wing.

SANTA ANITA HANDICAP

PP	Horse	Wt	Owner	Jockey	P. Odds
1	[illegible]	1[illegible]	L. B. Mayer	Bierman	15-1
2	Thanksgiving	11[illegible]	P. Corning	Westrope	[illegible]
3	[illegible]	117	A. Vanderbilt	Richards	[illegible]
4	Specify	11[illegible]	A. A. Baroni	Corbett	6-1
5	[illegible]	11[illegible]	Crosby L. Howard	No Boy	100-1
6	Jacola	119	Few Friendly	Peters	10-1
7	Main Man	117	L. B. Mayer	Woolf	[illegible]
8	[illegible]	1[illegible]	C. S. Howard	Neves	4-1
9	[illegible]	1[illegible]	Raoul Walsh	Mellor	100-1
10	[illegible]	1[illegible]	Howard M'Carthy	Gray	8-1
11	[illegible]	112	A. C. Taylor	James	6-1
12	Cravat	1[illegible]	T. B. Martin	Robertson	6-1
13	War Minstrel	11[illegible]	Mrs. F. Demomark	Wall	20-1
14	Today	11[illegible]	Howard M'Carthy	Conley	8-1
15	[illegible]	1[illegible]	Mrs. F. Dememark	Renick	70-1
16	[illegible]	1[illegible]	Kosinski Bros.	Tucker	50-1
17	[illegible]	110	Fred Turner, Jr.	Longden	[illegible]
18	Kayak II	110	C. S. Howard	Adams	[illegible]

Field horses—Amor Brujo, Ebbo and Olampo.

Hialeah Park Revised Odds, Jockey Line

By Bay State News Service, Inc.

FIRST RACE

xPackage, 112, Roberts	10-1
xWoodwanc, 113, Meade	3-1
xWinged Victory, 115, Nash	8-1
xBrandon Prince, 113, Maloney	4-1
Golden X, 114, Rosen	12-1
xBrilliant Rock, 115, Snider	10-1
xU Demon, 115, Charlton	4-1
xMister Jacko, 104, Ashcroft	5-1
xGold Cross, 109, Bateman	20-1

SECOND RACE

xTwist, 105, Ashcroft	6-1
Tall Story, 115, Wright	2-1
xNicholas S., 110, Quintero	8-1
Broad Stripes, 112, Jacobs	20-1
Minstrel Wit, 112, Seabo	20-1
xChalmac, 110, Pariso	4-1
xBissakerry, 110, Nash	8-1
Stoney Brush, 115, Young	2½-1

THIRD RACE

That One, 102, Renick	8-1
xPanorama, 102, Ashcroft	8-5
xBusby, 104, Quintero	12-1
xAlpenglow, 103, Charlton	3-1
Bogertin, 109, Meade	4-1
xWild Count, 109, Collins	15-1
xLittle Banner, 102, Nash	12-1
xManhattan, 103, Snider	12-1
The Singer, 109, Critchfield	15-1

FOURTH RACE

Early Settler, 122, Arcaro	4-1
Cheick Rama, 108, Deering	12-1
xO'Bantam, 104, Nash	8-1
xWeary Flower, 107, Charlton	12-1
Seed, 116, Meade	2½-1
xDark Bean, 110, Snider	6-1
xTrina, 109, Ashcroft	2½-1

FIFTH RACE

Ida Rogers, 116, Anderson	12-1
Flying Glee, 114, Donoso	15-1
Melissa, 114, Sarno	15-1
Marogay, 119, I. Hanford	6-1
Exarch, 119, Arcaro	2½-1
Halcyon Boy, 122, Meade	8-1
Macace, 117, Renick	15-1
Noon Step, 117, Balaski	12-1
Roman, 117, Wright	10-1
Great Albert, 117, Steffen	8-5

SIXTH RACE

aSir Damion, 114, Meade	4-1
Mythical King, 111, Wright	10-1
Stagehand, 126, Stout	3-5
aPasteurized, 114, Arcaro	4-1
Francesco, 107, Seabo	20-1
Bull Lea, 119, Anderson	3-1
Xavier, 100, LeBlanc	15-1

a—M. Field Mrs. W. P. Stewart entry.

SEVENTH RACE

xEagle Pass, 106, Pariso	3-1
Shangay Lily, 103, Deering	20-1
Malano, 116, No Boy	6-1
Pompeys Pillar, 114, Rosen	15-1
Bewitched, 118, Balaski	8-1
Xavier, 112, Meade	2½-1
xOur Willie, 106, Charlton	12-1
Teddy Weed, 110, Hanford	2-1

EIGHTH RACE

Balapin, 113, Hanford	6-1
Virginia Boy, 107, Connell	20-1
xForeign Legion, 110, Ashcroft	8-1
xOur Teddy, 100, Pariso	6-1
xEasiest Way, 113, Nash	2-1
Diavid, 118, Lynch	2½-1
xWest Sea, 105, Snider	12-1
xPalan, 110, Charlton	8-1

x—Apprentice allowance claimed.

First post, 1:45 p. m., E. S. T.

Weather clear, track fast.

Program Selections At Hialeah Park

(By Bay State News Service, Inc.)

1—U Demon, Brandon Prince, Woodwanc.
2—Tall Story, Stoney Brush, Twist.
3—Bogertin, Panorama, Alpenglow.
4—Trina, Early Settler, Seed.
5—Exarch, Great Albert, Noon Step.
6—Stagehand, Bull Lea, Field-Stewart entry.
7—Teddy Weed, Xavier, Eagle Pass.
8—Diavid, Easiest Way, Palan.
Weather clear; track fast.

Hialeah Mutuels for Friday, Mar. 3

1—2—7	$179.70
1—2—3—5—7	$242.20
7	$299.30
Three	$163.20
Five	$205.20
Seven	$299.30

ROOM AND BOARD By Gene Ahern

Wilson's Hialeah Form

FIRST RACE—Purse $1000, four-year-olds and up, claiming, 1⅛ miles ($1250-$1000):

P.P.	Horse	Wt.	Jockey	P. Odds	Comment
11	Mister Jacko	x104	Ashcroft	[illegible]	All conditions suit
5	Brandon Prince	x113	Maloney	[illegible]	Three in a row
9	U Demon	x115	Charlton	6-1	Three straight
2	Woodwanc	113	Meade	4-1	Drops down
8	Brilliant Rock	x115	Snider	6-1	Two in a row
7	Golden X	114	Rosen	10-1	May better rating
3	Winged Victory	x115	Nash	[illegible]	Could surprise
1	Package	x112	Pariso	[illegible]	Not out of it
12	Gold Cross	x109	Bateman	20-1	Not for mine
6	Dancing Cloud	11[illegible]	Meade	20-1	SCRATCHED
10	Fleet Step	x11[illegible]	Bateman	20-1	SCRATCHED
4	Espinaca	x115	Quintero	5-1	SCRATCHED

SECOND RACE—Purse $1000, three-year-olds, seven furlongs:

P.P.	Horse	Wt.	Jockey	P. Odds	Comment
7	Tall Story	115	Wright	[illegible]	Best Day Off
8	Chalmac	x110	Pariso	[illegible]	Good figure
12	Stoney Brush	115	Young	[illegible]	Has beaten top
1	Twist	x105	Ashcroft	[illegible]	Rounding to top form
6	Broad Stripes	112	Jacobs	20-1	Could beat rating
2	Minstrel Wit	112	Seabo	[illegible]	Recent trials fair
3	Nicholas S.	x110	Quintero	[illegible]	Hardly here
9	Bissakerry	x110	Nash	[illegible]	Appears out of it
5	Predestined	10[illegible]	Meade	[illegible]	SCRATCHED
10	Col. Scott	11[illegible]	Wright	[illegible]	SCRATCHED
4	Stockboard	x11[illegible]	Nash	[illegible]	SCRATCHED
11	Pradis	11[illegible]	Donoso	[illegible]	SCRATCHED

THIRD RACE—Purse $1100, five-year-olds and up, claiming, 1⅛ miles ($1250-$1000):

P.P.	Horse	Wt.	Jockey	P. Odds	Comment
2	Panorama	x102	Ashcroft	[illegible]	Top figure
7	Little Banner	x102	Nash	[illegible]	Ready for best
4	Alpenglow	x103	Charlton	[illegible]	Good effort prior start
5	Bogertin	109	Meade	[illegible]	Last was good
1	That One	102	Renick	[illegible]	Last best yet
3	Busby	x104	Quintero	[illegible]	Improvement needed
8	The Singer	109	Critchfield	[illegible]	Might surprise
9	Manhattan	x103	Snider	[illegible]	Improvement needed
6	Wild Count	109	Collins	20-1	Not for mine

FOURTH RACE—Purse $1100, four-year-olds and up, claiming, 1 3-16 miles ($2500-$2750):

P.P.	Horse	Wt.	Jockey	P. Odds	Comment
8	Trina	x109	Ashcroft	[illegible]	Red tape repeater
6	Weary Flower	x107	Charlton	6-1	Improvement anticipated
1	Early Settler	122	Arcaro	8-1	1st 2nd last 2 starts
6	Seed	116	Meade	5-1	Beat cheaper company
4	O'Bantam	x104	Nash	8-1	Likes the route
2	Cheick Rama	108	Deering	10-1	Scratched for this
7	Dark Bean	x110	Snider	[illegible]	Outclassed
3	Fight Back	x11[illegible]	Snider	[illegible]	SCRATCHED

FIFTH RACE—The Hialeah Juvenile Championship, purse $[illegible] added, two-year-olds, three furlongs, straightaway:

P.P.	Horse	Wt.	Jockey	P. Odds	Comment
10	Great Albert	117	Steffen	4-1	May be a champion
4	Marogay	119	I. Hanford	[illegible]	Good colt, figures close
6	Halcyon Boy	122	Meade	8-1	Won last, cannot ignore
5	Exarch	119	Arcaro	8-1	The figure horse
8	Noon Step	117	Balaski	6-1	Won last very fast
9	Roman	117	Wright	[illegible]	May beat rating
7	Macace	117	Renick	15-1	Could surprise
1	Ida Rogers	116	Anderson	15-1	May go well
3	Melissa	114	Sarno	[illegible]	Needs some class
2	Flying Glee	114	Donoso	20-1	Not out of it

SIXTH RACE—The Widener, purse $50,000 added, three-year-olds and up, 1¼ miles:

P.P.	Horse	Wt.	Jockey	P. Odds	Comment
5	Stagehand	126	Stout	7-10	My Best Bet
8	Bull Lea	119	Anderson	[illegible]	May be too far
6	aPasteurized	114	Arcaro	[illegible]	Classy, good step
2	aSir Damion	114	Meade	[illegible]	Meade up, trials okay
4	Mythical King	111	Wright	20-1	Rounded to top form
7	Francesco	107	Seabo	20-1	Outclassed
9	Xavier	100	LeBlanc	20-1	Outclassed
3	Warlaine	100	Robart	[illegible]	SCRATCHED
1	Teddy Weed	11[illegible]	Roberts	20-1	SCRATCHED

a—M. Field-Mrs. W. P. Stewart entry.

SEVENTH RACE—Purse $1200, four-year-olds and up, Grade C, 1⅛ miles ($1250-$1000):

P.P.	Horse	Wt.	Jockey	P. Odds	Comment
9	Teddy Weed	110	Hanford	2-1	Best needed
7	Xavier	112	Meade	3-1	Figures close
1	Eagle Pass	x106	Pariso	3-1	Rounded to form
4	Malano	116	No Boy	6-1	Must improve
6	Bewitched	118	Balaski	15-1	Won last, slow time
2	Shangay Lily	103	Deering	20-1	Tip prior race
3	Pompeys Pillar	114	Rosen	20-1	Scratched for this
5	Our Willie	x106	Charlton	20-1	Has shown little
8	Prince Derek	x111	Ashcroft	20-1	SCRATCHED

EIGHTH RACE—Purse $1100, four-year-olds and up, 1⅛ miles ($1250-$1000):

P.P.	Horse	Wt.	Jockey	P. Odds	Comment
6	Easiest Way	x113	Nash	5-1	Ready for top effort
1	Balapin	113	Hanford	6-1	Likes route, factor
3	Virginia Boy	107	Connell	8-1	Ignore last, chance
7	Diavid	118	Lynch	4-1	If not too sore
9	Palan	x110	Charlton	6-1	Timid style last out
4	Foreign Legion	x110	Ashcroft	10-1	Likes distance
5	Our Teddy	x100	Pariso	20-1	In light enough
8	West Sea	x105	Snyder	20-1	Would surprise
2	Old Story	x107	Ashcroft	8-1	SCRATCHED
10	Erada	x110	Huff	20-1	SCRATCHED

DiMaggio Out to Break Foxx's Mark

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4 (INS) Joe DiMaggio, the New York Yankee outfielder, was en route to spring training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., doesn't believe that he has reached his peak.

Before leaving San Francisco, DiMaggio said:

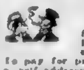
"With any breaks I ought to hit better this season than .344, the mark Jimmy Foxx made last year when he led the league."

JOE & ASBESTOS

Weekly Turf Booklet

NOW 15c—LARGER, MORE PAGES

Published Every Monday with Special List of Long Shots.



Simply send 15c for booklet. Don't miss the lucky secret code in cartoon.

To pay for printing and handling, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for return mail, local (2c), out of town (3c). Back issues of each sent upon request. Address Joe and Asbestos, Daily Record, or Boston American, 5 Winthrop Square, Boston, Mass. Letters that do not contain 15 cents and a self-addressed stamped envelope WILL NOT BE ANSWERED.

Ski Scribblings

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

The skiing season is not over! Many city folks think that the first of March means the end of winter sports, but this is a misconception.

There is still plenty of snow in New Hampshire, Vermont and Canada. More snow trains will be run. And there will be good spring skiing on Cannon Mountain and Mount Mansfield and in Tuckerman's Ravine into May!

ON THE SUNDAY SNOW Train to Plymouth, N. H.—Three sections conveyed well over 1000 skiers . . . The first section pulled out as soon as it was filled . . North Station was transformed into a moving rainbow of colors by enthusiasts attired in gay garb . . Conditions were variable; first fast powder, then slow sleet . . . Crowd was split up between Wendy's Slope, Huckins Hill, Mt. Pero and Frontenac Slope . . . Here THE PLYMOUTH SKI PATROL did a fine job directing traffic and rendering first aid . .

The snow train will operate this coming Sunday to North Conway, N. H., leaving at 8.15.

Nearly 70 winged jumpers, the best in the East, will compete this week-end in the U. S. EASTERN AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIPS at the Gilford Recreational Area at Laconia, N. H. Twenty-five thousand spectators are expected. There will be cross-country races in conjunction with the jumping.

On Cannon Mountain the Hochgebirge Ski Club of Boston holds its fifth annual invitation downhill races for a challenge cup Saturday at 10:30 and 2:30. The slalom races will be held Sunday on the upper half mile of the Taft Trail, near the tramway. Ski stars galore here!

In the Newfound Region, Oscar Cyr will direct a skiing Gymkhana in which novel slalom races will be featured. In addition to a Masquerade race, an "Umbrella Race" will be staged. This event will be run over a parallel slalom course, each contestant carrying one pole and an umbrella!

COLBY TO INSTRUCT

LARRY COLBY of Littleton, N. H., has joined the Plymouth Swiss Ski School as an instructor and is located at the Mt. Pero Lodge, where he holds classes. "His chap is a good skier and a conscientious teacher.

Another instructor who deserves mention is GEORGE BERLEME of the Newfound Region. Here is a likeable lad who stresses form and control. Before coming to this country George taught skiing in Norway, his native land, and Denmark. He believes that every skier should work hard on the fundamentals and forget the so-called "tempos."

TONI MATT, 19-year-old instructor with Hannes Schneider's Eastern Slopes School, is the latest sensation in racing circles. Running as an F. I. S. amateur, he won the "No-fall" race on Mt. Greylock Sunday. Recently he captured the U. S. Eastern Amateur Championship on Mt. Mansfield!

"Brothers under the skis" are WARREN, HOWARD AND ROLAND CHIVERS who will compete in the Eastern Class B jumping championships Saturday and Sunday at Gilford in Laconia, N. H. Warren and Howard won first and second, respectively, in the F. I. S. Eastern Jumping Trials at Lake Placid, N. Y.

Friends of ELIZABETH "LIBBY" TILL will be glad to hear that she has recovered from a recent illness and may soon be on the hickory's again. This feminine slalom star of the Newfound Region may win the Eastern Slalom Championships for Women next year if she continues to improve on her slippery slats!

Patty Berg Victor In Florida Tilt

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 4 national champion, continued her march to one of the few titles she has never won when she defeated Miss Laddie Irwin of Montclair, N. J., in the semifinals of the Florida East Coast championships, 6 and 4.

Miss Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., turned back Mrs. Helen Hockenjos of Lake Hopatcong, N. J., 3 and 2 in the other portion of the semi-final round.

Lefty Grove, Miracle Man of Baseball, Starting Off on Third Diamond Career

By HERB FINNEGAN

SARASOTA, Fla., March 4—The world was startled a few years back when it was told by some literateur that "Life begins at 40."

Well, what do you think of a man who is beginning his third life at 38?

We have such a man in this sunshine-flooded town. His name is Robert Moses Grove, and he pitches for the Boston Red Sox.

Dennis Galehouse has shown enough already to be certain of a starting role as pitcher. He came from the Cleveland Indians.

Manager Joe Cronin takes time out in his own workout to get a peep at his new Red Sox. Joe won't predict the flag for Fenway.

Nice form, mister Tom Carey, but you have a tough job to break into the starting lineup of the Hose. He'll get a utility role and might see plenty of action. He came from the Browns.

Grove started his first baseball life in 1925 when Connie Mack dug deep into his jeans and bought him from Baltimore. His success with the Athletics is too well known to bear repeating.

Suffice to say he was the mound ace of three American League pennant winners, and hung up the highest won and lost record in American League history, 31-4, outpercentaging Joe Wood's great 34-5 record made with the Sox in 1912.

Grove was sold to the Red Sox in 1934, and everybody and his mother howled, "Connie knew he was through" when the Nation's No. 1 southpaw came up with a sore arm.

But he wasn't through. Far from it.

MADE COMEBACK

After one poor year, he came back the next with all his old time effectiveness, and so started baseball life No. 2.

Last spring, his 14th in the majors, he started in as if he would have his best season, despite his 37 years.

He had won 14 games and lost only four. He was leading the league by a goodly margin, and his stellar left arm was keeping the Sox on the coattails of the world champion Yankees.

And then, in a mid-summer game against Detroit, his arm went as dead as a haddock. Doctors could find no pulse. There was no feeling in his arm. Just a vague numbness. There were rumors of amputation.

Grove lay in the hospital and tore it. He wasn't through. Why, he was only 37. A fellow wasn't supposed to quit at 37 when he has the mountaineer's strength of a Grove.

No, he wasn't through. He was just enjoying a short respite before starting Life No. 3.

PLENTY WILL POWER

The man's will power is amazing.

He had been in the daily habit of smoking 10 or 12 of the biggest, blackest cigars he could find, then topping them off with a pipe.

The doctors couldn't diagnose the case. They had never seen anything like it.

And although smoking probably had no more to do with his arm than I have with Foxx's batting record, Lefty stopped smoking abruptly when someone suggested it, and he hasn't smoked since.

He gained weight rapidly. Even though he labored like a Trojan when he quit the hospital he put on 25 pounds. But he kept working, and before the season had closed he had finished up two games for the Sox and had reported no ill effects.

Anxious to get down to playing weight, he went to Hot Springs a few weeks ago with Joe Cronin, Jimmy Foxx, Jack Wilson and Denny Galehouse.

He played 36 holes of golf daily. He took 18 baths and came down from 219 to 204. He climbed the mountains. Not once did he complain.

DOWN TO 200 POUNDS

He came direct to Sarasota from Hot Springs. He has been drilling, drilling, drilling under a broiling sun. He weighed 200 at the last practice. His playing weight is between 190 and 195.

That's an idea of how the man toils.

His arm?

I don't know. Neither does Cronin.

In fact, Lefty won't even know himself for at least another month. He gets his six-foot, three-inch frame in condition before he starts throwing.

Tom Daly believes he'll be O. K. He refers to the case of Pitcher Chet Nichols whom Tom knew at Montreal.

Chet, once a semi-pro favorite around Boston, came back after suffering an ailment similar to Grove's.

Kid Kaplan Victor In Stirring Bout

NEW BRITAIN, Ct., March 4 (AP)—Mike Kaplan of Boston won a close 10-round decision over Joe Ghnouly of St. Louis by what observers described as one of the best boxing matches ever seen in this city.

Bartolo, Dupre In Fifth Fight

Worcester, March 4—It was announced by the Arena Social Club that Salvatore Bartolo of East Boston will meet Champion Tony Dupre of Manchester, N. H., in a scheduled 12-round bout for the New England featherweight championship here Friday, March 10, at Mechanics Hall.

Dupre's record shows that he won decisions over Joe Archibald, world's featherweight champion, and Pete Scalzo, leading contender for the crown.

B'S SPIRIT SURPRISES GRIMM

Baseball Topic of Discussion 24 Hours a Day

By JOE CASHMAN

BRADENTON, Fla., March 4—The baseball spirit and interest being displayed by the Bees, from Manager Casey Stengel down to the greenest rookie, is the talk of the Grapefruit League.

Every visitor to camp comments and marvels about it.

Charlie Grimm, ex-Cubs manager, dropped around recently and has yet to recover from his surprise.

"I've been around baseball a long while," he said, "but I never saw a camp like this.

"It's baseball morning, noon and night.

"I used to have my troubles getting the boys to keep their minds on business during one short practice session daily.

"Here everybody hustles through two workouts and when they're through, instead of rushing off to the golf links, the beach or the movies, they congregate around the hotel and talk baseball."

Charlie wasn't exaggerating a bit. Indeed he didn't tell half of it.

AHEAD OF TIME

There are a flock of players toiling here daily who were not scheduled to report until next Wednesday.

Al Simmons, Elbie Fletcher, "Buddy" Hassett and Eddie Miller, told to check in March 8, showed up on opening day. Tony Cuccinello, due the same time, was in uniform last Thursday.

"That's a new one on me," observes Coach George Kelley. "I never before knew of veteran players showing up early for training."

This unprecedented enthusiasm is voluntary, too.

The players are driven hard while in uniform, but nobody objects if they rush off to play golf later in the day or go to a theater or dance in the evening.

LIVE ON BASEBALL

It just so happens that the majority of them delight in being in a baseball atmosphere from the time they arise in the morning until they retire for the night.

Stengel doesn't urge this attitude, but he certainly encourages it by setting the style.

Manager Stengel's Drive Fails to Halt Enthusiasm

Baseball is Casey's life. In the Coaches Kelly, Bob Coleman and Fresco Thompson he's surrounded himself with assistants who love the game as well as he does.

Each is talking baseball to a group of players before the day's work starts. Right after dinner, each does the same thing until bed time.

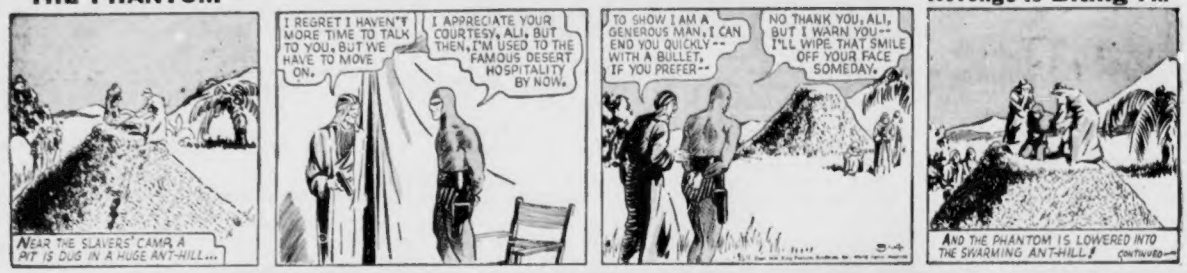
To catch their breaths, all four act as hosts to the scribes at the afternoon press conference.

They ought to be weary, but they seem to thrive on it.

All know baseball from A to Z and the breezy way they discuss it makes listening to them more enjoyable than going to a show.

That, possibly is the reason why these Bees' players can't get enough baseball to satisfy them, while the average hand on other clubs takes no more of it than is demanded of him.

THE PHANTOM



LOVER AND FIGHTER -:- KID McCOY'S OWN STORY

Kid McCoy and Mrs. Theresa Moers, desperately in love and planning to get married as soon as her divorce is made final, are troubled by the wrangling over business between Theresa and her husband.

During an attack of acute despondency, Theresa makes an attempt to stab herself with a bread knife. McCoy takes it from her and she seizes his pistol from the table. While he is trying to control her she blindly pulls the trigger, and falls to the floor, dead.

McCoy is beside himself with grief. He gulps down a quart of whisky, awakes in his car in the street, and runs amuck. Two men are shot before the police come and overpower him.

McCoy is now employed by Henry Ford in Detroit.

By KID McCOY

(As Told to Lee J. Smith)

Copyright, 1938, by Boston Evening American and King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Theresa shot herself on August 12, 1924, and on April 12, 1925, I entered San Quentin prison.

Between those dates was purgatory, too complex, too agonizing for me to attempt to chronicle. In the old county jail of Los Angeles I gradually recovered full possession of mind to face the two facts that pressed upon me, each one of them in itself enough to crush me utterly.

One, that Theresa was no more.

The other, that I was charged with having taken her life.

I was eager to plead guilty to what I was convinced I had done, in my violent outbreak in the Moers store, but to all efforts to persuade me to admit that I had any part in causing the death of the woman I loved, I give only one answer—I am innocent. I had told the truth in every detail.

CONFIDENT OF RESULT

In jail I became judge of the kangaroo court, by means of which prisoners enforce their own discipline and keep cleanliness in the wards, or "tanks." I was perfectly confident of acquittal; in fact, never thought that I would be tried for Theresa's death.

Asa Keyes, ambitious politically, conducted a sensational prosecution of my case. A year or so later he followed me into San Quentin, himself a convict, and I am proud to say that I could shake his hand and say from the bottom of my heart that I forgave him. All bitterness had left me.

During the trial I saw friendship put to the supreme test. Those who had known me in brighter days did one of three things: they came loyally to my aid, they kept out of sight or hearing, or else—in a very few instances—they added their voices to those that condemned me.

I was on trial. I began to realize, for my whole life's record. I had been a prizefighter and a movie actor. That counted against me. I had been married nine times, and many virtuous citizens thought that in itself warranted a prison term.

Friends appeared whom I had never known. When I balanced the account, I knew that the good in human nature, as manifested toward me, far outweighed the evil. My sisters were tender, devoted.

DEATH OF MOTHER

A few weeks after I was arrested, mother died. She was 79, and had long been in ill health. My sisters contrived to keep from her any intimation that her Normie was in trouble. For that I was devoutly thankful. Except for the tears I shed alone, at night, the only time I wept was when deputies took me to mother's funeral.

Of the pugilistic world, the one who came valiantly to my defense was the most popular of them all, Jack Dempsey. He took the stand in my behalf, not only, and for several days sat beside me in the court room, but he offered, with his characteristic generosity, to let me take any part of his bankroll.

Jack Dempsey went to the top when boxing was becoming a polite sport, but with his fighting heart he has won the admiration of all the old-timers. I am quite safe in saying that no boxer since John L. Sullivan enjoyed such popularity. Unlike poor old John L., Jack Dempsey lives a wholesome, useful life.

I could not possibly thank them all, publicly, as I should like to do—the humble ones and the great ones who gave me their sympathy, friendship, helpfulness.

A MODEL PRISONER

When I entered San Quentin I had but one thought—to make the most of the prison experience; to turn a tragic misfortune into a benefit. When, as a "fresh fish," head shaven, garbed in shapeless misfits, I was given the prison rule book I committed it to memory with the determination never to offend.

I succeeded, and in the eight years I was in San Quentin I never forfeited the little card entitling me to all the privileges that go with perfect conduct records.

I had three sentences running one after the other—seven, seven and six years, on the shooting charges, and 10 years, concurrently with those, on the charge of manslaughter. My maximum was 23½ years. A member of the parole board informed me that in considering my case they went on the assumption that I was not guilty on the manslaughter charge.

In prison I was shown no favors. I was first sent to the jute mill, later I became circulation manager of the prison paper, The Bulletin. Then, when the position of fire chief was vacant, I was given that highly responsible position. I made daily inspections of the prison, inside and out; removed all fire hazards; kept the equipment in first-class order and was plenty busy.

As fire chief my partner was Matt Schmidt, sentenced for life in connection with the Los Angeles Times dynamiting. Schmitty, as he was known to all in San Quentin, is a remarkable character. He was liked by all the officials because he was efficient and industrious, and as there is no more efficient mechanical engineer anywhere, Schmitty's services are of great value to the state.

I was in constant association with this quiet, unpretentious man. The inmates respect Schmitty, and his influence among them is always good. Strong, fine soul that he is, I salute him from the outside world as one whose example has helped me and hundreds of others.

Warden Smith, a splendid official, died after I had served four years. Warden Houlihan, who succeeded him, permitted me to leave the fire department to go to the road camp at San Simeon, where every two days of work gives the convict a day of "good time" off his sentence.

I had always been a trusty, after my first period of probation, and in the road camp had charge of the first aid hospital and camp sanitation.

The great lesson of self-mastery came to me in prison. I kept my mental and physical health by "living from the ears up," as Schmitty used to say. That is, I kept my mind in control, and my emotions or appetites. I kept busy and gave my utmost energies to my job, whatever it was.

When the day came that, through the activity of such friends as Gov. Fred W. Green of Michigan, United States Senator Royal S. Copeland and Harry Bennett, I was free, I was ready to re-enter the world.

IS GRANTED PAROLE

When the day came that I was paroled to Harry Bennett, who never forgot the interest I took in him when he was a lightweight boxer in the United States Navy, I literally flew toward Detroit after seeing my sisters for a few hours in San Francisco.

Behind me the long twilight of prison life, back of that a fantastic career of conflict, adventure, careless living, beautiful women, boon companions.

Ahead of me one certitude—peace. I had learned that it comes only from within.

(The End.)

RED WINGS CAUSE ROSS GRAY HAIRS

By BILL GRIMES

Up bright and early this morning and down to the Garden to buy a friend a couple of tickets (no luck) for tomorrow night's Bruin-Ranger game.

Bumped into Uncle Arthur Ross, whose facial expression led me to believe that the boys in the box office had given me the old "run-around" and that Sunday's attraction was not a complete sellout.

But, immediately, I realized that none of Tommy Waters' boys would tell a falsehood under any circumstances. Then, I thought Uncle Arthur had received some bad news, such as somebody demanding and getting a recount and the Bruins had swapped places with the Black Hawks.

WINGS WORRY ROSS

But, again, I was wrong, as I soon learned.

Uncle Arthur IS worried. But, not over the outcome of the Ranger game or that there will be any left over tickets in the box office.

It's Tuesday night's game with the Red Wings that has Uncle Arthur upset.

"Say, Art," we asked, "what do you think of tomorrow night's Ranger game? Are you at all concerned over the outcome?"

"No, I'm not worrying over that game. It's a sellout. Not a ticket to be had for love, money or marbles.

"It's Tuesday night's game with the Red Wings that got me talking to myself."

"Yes, I know all about the sell out angle. I've just received that sad news from Fred Howard and John Carney over there in the box office.

"What I'm trying to get now is a little inside dope on the OUTCOME not the 'TAKE.' The fans are not interested in the gross receipts but fortunately they ARE keen for some information on how you compare your powerful Bruins to the Streamline Rangers."

THREE LOSSSES TO RANGERS

"Well, I'll tell you. The Rangers have beaten us three times this season. Lester has a great club, which reminds me that I've seen very few teams this year click as well as did the Red Wings the night they beat us in Detroit. They were flying and apparently couldn't make a mistake. If Jack Adams can get them up to that . . ."

"Oh yes, but what was I saying when recollections of that great game the Wings played against us flashed through my mind?"

"The Rangers", we prompted.

"That's right, the Rangers are a great club, smart, fast and game. They'll be troublesome but off the record, I hope somebody knocks off those Red Wings before the start of the Stanley Cup series. I'm telling you, Jack Adams has them stepping and he has brought up a couple of youngsters from the Hornets, whom I fear will get in my hair before the final bell rings Tuesday night."

"So long, Uncle Arthur. Thanks for the advance information on the Red Wings," was our parting shot.

And I'll wager Uncle Arthur gets that story across before Tuesday.

They'll Do It Every Time -:- Hatlo

Mr. Boston

By JACK CONWAY

Fred Perry Will Watch Bruins

Strickland Rated As Top Heavy

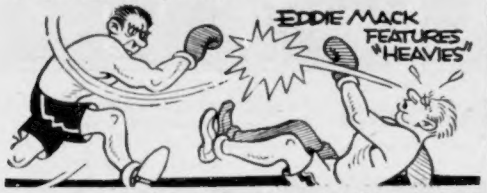
FRED PERRY, the English tennis player, will be in town tomorrow night to see the Bruins play the Rangers at the Garden . . . He will remain over for a luncheon Walter Brown will toss in his honor at the Manger Hotel Monday noon . . . The luncheon will serve as effective ballyhoo for the tennis match between the versatile Perry and Don Budge at the Garden on next Saturday night.

Perry will give the news writers an opportunity to ask him questions . . . He will discuss tennis, and if Jimmy Bagby pops the question would probably consent to tell how many home runs Jimmy Foxx will get for the Red Sox this year . . . Tennis players are getting very accommodating since they went in for the professional end of the game.

* * *

All Aiming for a Louis Bout

NOW THAT Joe Louis has convinced everybody he intends to defend his world's heavyweight title as frequently as possible some of the big fellows on the Argonne A. A.'s card at Mechanics Building on next Wednesday night have an idea they are going places . . . There is Maurice Strickland of New Zealand who collides with Jack Pallat of Cleveland, former national amateur champion . . . Jack Kearns told me recently in Detroit that Strickland in his opinion is the best of the white heavyweights . . . The fact most of the headliners will not have any part of the New Zealander indicates the high respect they have for his combative qualities.



Pat Comiskey, young Jersey heavyweight, will come here with Strickland, and battle Julio Ortensio, Spanish champion . . . Roy Lazer, Jewish heavyweight who recently won from Leroy Haynes, is on the card with "Tiger" Warrenton as an opponent.

Eddie Mack intends to keep featuring heavyweights in the hope that he may eventually develop somebody who could be moved into a title match with Louis . . . Since Tony Galento was skyrocketed into a Louis bout as a result of his ability to drink beer and smoke big cigars the boys in the boxing industry figure that anything can happen.

* * *

Hockey Hits Another High Spot

HOCKEY WILL hit another high spot when the Bruins will clash with the Rangers at the Garden tomorrow night . . . Both of these clubs have been playing brilliant hockey, and a capacity crowd will turn out to see them in action . . . The Bruins and Rangers are certain to be in the Stanley Cup series . . . Weston Adams says hockey has enjoyed one of the most profitable seasons it has ever experienced in this city . . . Proving that the public will always patronize the right kind of a sports attraction.

Tony Dupre has signed to defend his New England featherweight championship against Salvatore Bartolo of East Boston in a bout that will be staged in Worcester on next Friday night . . . Dupre won a close decision over the flashy Bartolo in a tussle held in the Arena . . . The East Boston youth believes he will even the score on Friday night.

Billy Barry, former stage star, writes from Miami, Fla., that he had a chat with Jack Dempsey who asked him to say hello to his Boston friends . . . Dempsey has a new way of making money . . . He fits clothes to Jess Willard in the windows of Miami stores . . . Jess has been on Dempsey's payroll at the latter's Miami Beach hotel . . . Dempsey is quite happy he didn't have any financial interests in the recent Galento-Feldman bout in Miami which was a financial flop as well as a poor fight.

Boxing is coming back in New Bedford . . . The recently organized Whalers' Sports Club has Frankie Britt of Fall River and Cal Holmes of New Bedford trading blows in a ten-round bout on Tuesday night . . . Britt recently won the New England welterweight championship by upsetting the Cocoa Kid.

* * *

Henry Armstrong to Box Here

EDDIE MEADE has accepted tentative terms for a Boston bout for Henry Armstrong, world's lightweight and welterweight champion, during the latter part of the Summer . . . It is likely that Armstrong will defend his world's lightweight title against Lou Ambers in New York during the early part of the Summer.

With Tony Galento billed to meet Joe Louis in June, the winner of the Lou Nova-Max Baer bout will not get a crack at the "Brown Bomber" until September.

Bowlers Backing Tourney

By WALTER KILEY

The bowling clans are lining up for the major classic of the candlepin season—the Boston Evening American-Daily Record championships, to be held at the Huntington Club, Boston, from March 25th through April 8th.

Steve Powell, that dynamic booster for the annual title tourney, promises to surpass his brilliant entry list records of past years with some hundred capable title-bent performers.

Steve, who owns the Saville Alleys in East Boston, brought over seven or eight girl teams and as many men's teams for the past three years, and tells us that he has several promising newcomers in his 1939 fold who may pick up the top awards.

Bill Sands, that always genial host at Commonwealth Recreation is coming in bigger and stronger than ever.

That means much to the success of the annual competition. For Billy Sands has accounted for as many if not more entries annually than any other one alley bossman.

GRANT ENTERS 200

Joe Grant, one of the country's great bowlers, has already lined up more than 50 entries, both men and women. But the hard working Joseph insists it's only his beginning.

In all Joe Grant will bring in more than 200 entries.

The Sacco-Rubicco chain of bowling alleys is out to set new records and to turn on a blazing pace hard for the rival alleymen to handle.

MORRISSEY READY

Among the others intent on setting new tourney records are Eddie Morrissey of Norfolk Downs, Jimmy O'Lindy of Quincy, Jimmy Innis of Pittsfield, Steve and John Shanley of Washington Street's Shanley Recreation alleys, J. J. Johnson of the Waverly Square alleys, Louis Carbone of Haverhill and Waltham, Athol Miller of Lynn and Revere and a host of others.

Once again we ask all prospective entrants to file their entry blanks early and to enclose entry fees with blanks. No entry is accepted unless accompanied by correct fee as outlined on all the blanks.

Every bowler in New England is eligible for the tourney, man, woman, boy or girl, good, bad or fair in scores.

The tourney motto is "the More the Merrier."

DAILY RECORD AND EVENING AMERICAN BOSTON MASS.

FOURTH ANNUAL GRAND CANDLEPIN

Bowling Tournament

To be held at Huntington Club, 255 Huntington Avenue, Boston
(next door to Symphony Hall)

Saturday, March 25th, through Saturday, April 8th

Handsome Gruen Wrist Watches

To All Amateur Winners (except teams)

Sanctioned by New England Bowling Association

AMATEUR DIVISION	OPEN DIVISION
☐ Men's Singles	☐ Men's Singles (April 8th Only)
☐ Men's Doubles	☐ Men's Doubles
☐ Men's Teams	☐ Men's Teams
☐ Boys' Singles	☐ Women's Singles
☐ Women's Singles	☐ Women's Doubles
☐ Women's Doubles	☐ Women's Teams
☐ Women's Teams	☐ Mixed Doubles
☐ Girls' Singles
☐ Mixed Doubles
☐ College Boys' Singles

(Indicate with cross (x) the events entered)

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

CITY OR TOWN _____ STATE _____

DATE PREFERRED _____ HOUR _____
(Print Name and Address—Do Not Write)

Send Entries to Jack Stafford, Huntington Club, 255 Huntington Ave., Boston

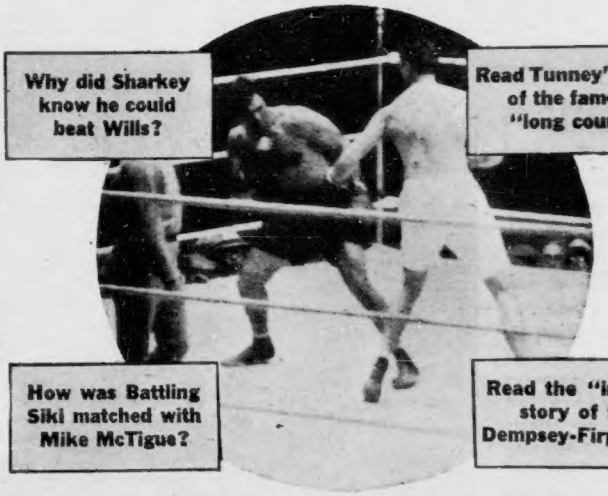
Tourney open to all New England bowlers. But contestants eligible to bowl only ONCE in each event and in only one division.
Alley owners, proprietors, employees and all "open" bowlers may enter "open" division ONLY.
AMATEUR DIVISION—Each event three strings—high total three-string pinfall to count. Entry fee 75 cents includes bowling costs. High school boys and girls 45 cents.
OPEN DIVISION—Men's singles to be five strings elimination! Women's singles, doubles and mixed doubles five strings; team competition three strings. Men's singles $5.00 entry fee; all others $2.00 (plus bowling). (All open fees returned in cash prizes.)
High school boys and girls must roll before 6 P. M.

PLEASE FILE EARLY

ENTRY FEE MUST ACCOMPANY ENTRY BLANK

"Untold Stories of the Ring"

By JACK CONWAY



Why did Sharkey know he could beat Wills?

Read Tunney's story of the famous "long count"

How was Battling Siki matched with Mike McTigue?

Read the "inside" story of the Dempsey-Firpo fight

Sports Editor Jack Conway tells some interesting facts about big fights and great fighters—facts that did not creep into the regular news stories. This series of stories that will interest every sports fan in New England

BEGINS in TOMORROW'S

SUNDAY ADVERTISER

ORDER YOUR COPY TODAY

2¢ BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

The only Boston evening newspaper with direct wire service from Associated Press and International News Service

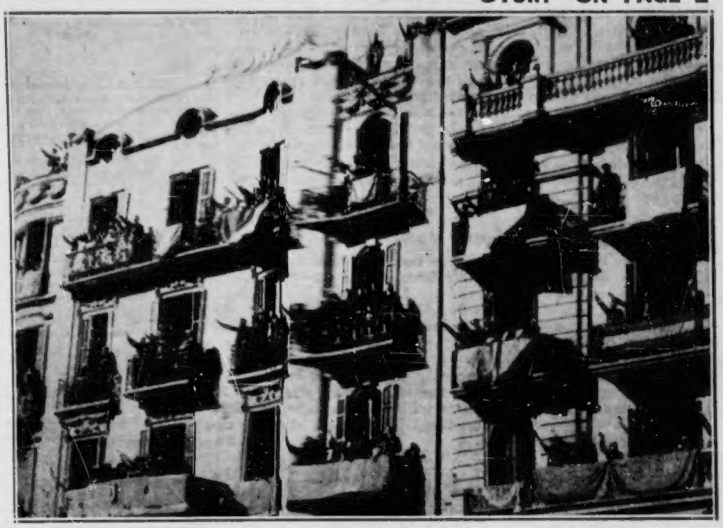
Copyright, 1939, by N. E. Newspaper Publishing Co. BOSTON, SATURDAY, MARCH 4, 1939 Entered as second class matter at Boston, Mass. Postoffice

FAIR SNOW CLOUDY
FULL LAST Q. NEW FIRST Q.

Treasury Balance on Page 11

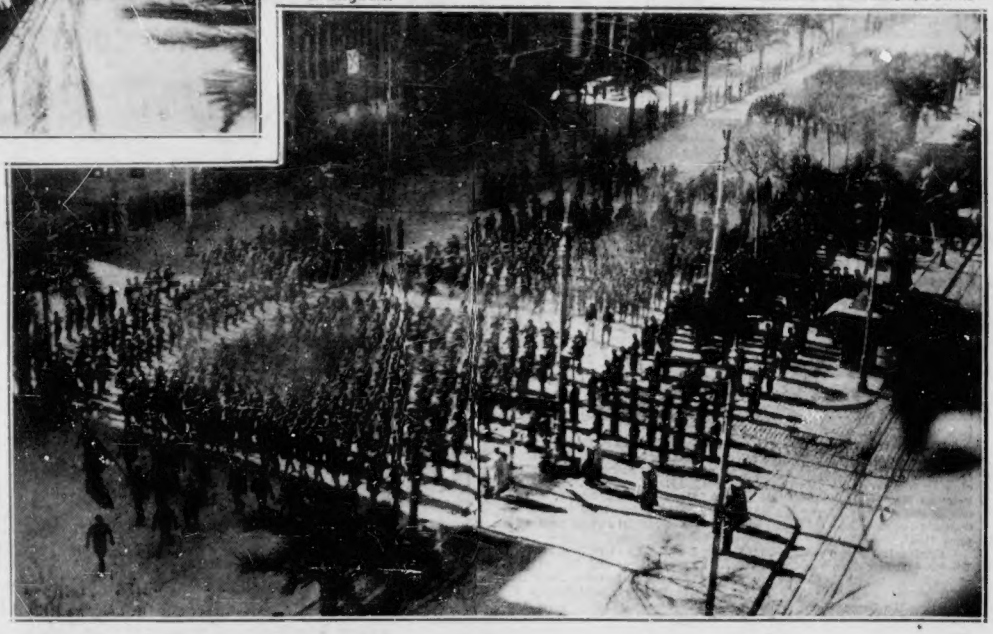
$5000 THOMPSON SPA FIRE

STORY ON PAGE 2



Franco in Barcelona—Thousands throng Barcelona balconies to cheer Insurgent General Franco and his armies as they stage great demonstration shortly after fall of the government stronghold.

International News Photograph Service



Victorious

Insurgent General Franco (arrow) takes a bow from balcony of government palace in Barcelona with his minister of war, General Davilla . . . as (below, right) his triumphant armies engage in impressive demonstration through the streets of the once Red capital. Now, Franco has begun siege of Madrid, last government outpost to hold out.

The Life of the New Pope ✠ By Thomas B. Morgan

BEGIN IT IN TOMORROW'S BOSTON SUNDAY ADVERTISER